The Titan Playbook

Aim for Iconic, Rise to Legendary, Make History

In an age of selfies, device addiction and superficial goals, how many of us are living in a way that is true to ourselves? Are we living a Titan life? Titans play in a whole different arena: it's not about fitting in, it's about standing out; it's not about popularity; it's about mastery; and it's not about being served, it's about serving.

In The Titan Playbook, Robin Sharma shares his most advanced strategies, showing us how to build our days on our own terms, bulletproof our character, protect our willpower, align our lives, and re-value dignity, courage and grace. With Robin's guidance and proven strategies, we can find the inspiration to embrace the Titan within all of us.

ROBIN SHARMA is a globally respected humanitarian. Widely considered one of the world's top leadership and personal optimization advisors, his clients include famed billionaires, professional sports superstars and many Fortune 100 companies. The author's #1 bestsellers such as The Monk Who Sold His Ferrari, The Greatness Guide and The Leader Who Had No Title are in over 92 languages making him one of the most broadly read writers alive today.

KORTNEY WILSON AND DAVE WILSON

Live Happy

The Best Ways to Make Your House a Home

The Wisdom of Sundays meets Domino with a shot of The Magnolia Story: from the beloved couple behind HGTV's Masters of Flip, a warm and inviting guide to making wherever you are feel like home

Home isn't just a place to sleep and eat. It's a haven—a place of refuge from the world, of connection with the people (and pets) you hold most dear, of celebration of life's biggest moments and of recuperation from the exhaustion of the day. Kortney and Dave Wilson have built their careers and a beloved HGTV show, Masters of Flip, around creating houses that people instantly recognize as home.

Live Happy offers hundreds of fresh, fun ideas for how readers and fans of Masters of Flip can inexpensively and creatively build joy into their lives and their homes. From the reason you should always live close to the ice cream shop to the definitive philosophy for dealing with your junk drawer, it will help you make a new house into a home or inject new life into your forever home. It will go beyond design to personal connections, with stories of how Kortney and Dave found each other, built new dreams together and manage to have a happy marriage (and business!) while raising three amazing children.

DAVE WILSON, an avid dreamer and talented musician, packed his bags and headed to Nashville, Tennessee, seeking a career in country music. There, after falling in love with his now wife, Kortney Wilson, he found his passion in the exhilarating world of flipping houses. Dave oversees the day-to-day project management of the flips, all the while keeping an eye on the prize—a profitable outcome from transforming something ugly into something spectacular.

KORTNEY WILSON, an award-winning realtor and a praiseworthy design visionary, has been deemed Nashville's hottest real estate sensation. Known for bringing her creative vision to each flip, Kortney isn't afraid to go bold with her design choices. In addition to overseeing the design elements, Kortney is also the realtor for the flips, ensuring the most profitable outcome for each run-down disaster turned family dream home.

*Let That Sh*t Go*

Find Peace of Mind in Your Everyday

“Stomach stress gurgles are no match for this spinning rolodex of chill pills.”—Neil Pasricha, #1 bestselling author of The Book of Awesome and The Happiness Equation

Life is stressful as f*ck. But it doesn't have to be.

It's no wonder you can't calm down: your to-do list is as long as your arm, your bank balance keeps dropping, you feel guilty for not calling your parents more often and there always seems to be a big deadline to meet at work. You need a serious breather—but you can barely find time to shower, let alone to exercise or meditate.

In *Let That Sh*t Go*, Kate Petriw and Nina Purewal share the wisdom they've gained though decades of practising and teaching others to find peace of mind no matter how busy they are. Learn to put your life in perspective, take each day one step at a time and steal moments of calm amid the chaos. And remember: it's not worth holding onto that sh*t.

NINA PUREWAL has more than twelve years of corporate experience in marketing and sales, launching local and global advertising campaigns. Nina is the founder of Pure Minds, an organization that conducts public and corporate workshops on mindfulness and meditation.

KATE PETRIW is the founder of Mind Matters, a Toronto-based organization that holds mental health workshops focused on reducing stress and negative thinking patterns and on inspiring happiness.

UZMA JALALUDDIN

Ayesha At Last

“This is the book I’ve been waiting for since my long-running Jane Austen obsession. Move over Darcy, Khalid’s in town.”

—S. K. Ali, author of Morris Award finalist, *Saints and Misfits

Ayesha Shamsi lives with her boisterous extended Muslim family in Toronto. Dreams of being a spoken word poet have been set aside for a teaching job that will help Ayesha pay off her debts to her wealthy uncle. She must also keep an eye on her flighty younger cousin, Hafsa, a girl who is close to rejecting one hundred arranged marriage proposals. Though Ayesha is lonely, she won’t bend to the more traditional ways and have an arranged marriage for herself. Then, she meets Khalid. He’s smart and handsome—and conservative and judgmental. She is irritatingly attracted to someone who looks down on her choices and dresses like he belongs in 7th Century Arabia. But Khalid is also wrestling with what he believes and what he wants. And he just can’t get this beautiful, outspoken poet out of his mind.

When a surprise engagement is announced between Khalid and Hafsa, Ayesha is torn between how she feels about the straightforward Khalid and the gossip she hears about his family. Looking into the rumours, she finds she has to deal with not only what she discovers about Khalid, but also the truth she realizes about herself.

UZMA JALALUDDIN, a high school teacher, writes Samosas and Maple Syrup, a regular column about modern Muslim life for the Toronto Star. She’s also been a guest on the TV show Cityline, speaking on the Muslim experience.

FARAH HERON

The Chai Factor

Thirty-year-old engineer Amira Khan has one rule: no dating until her grad school thesis is done. Amira leaves campus early to work in the quiet basement apartment at her family's house, only to find she has roommates. Her grandmother has rented the basement to . . . a barbershop quartet. Seriously? Amira needs silence, they need to rehearse for their competition, and Duncan, the small-town baritone with the flannel shirts, is driving her up the wall.

As Amira and Duncan clash, she is surprised by a simmering attraction. How can Amira be interested in someone who doesn't get her at all? Or get her family's culture? This is not a complication she needs when her future is at stake. But when intolerance rears its ugly head and people close to Amira get hurt, she learns the hard way that there is more to Duncan than meets the eye, and she must decide what she is willing to fight for. In the end, it may be that this small-town singer is the only person who sees her at all.

FARAH HERON has a varied career history ranging from selling yarn to selling bikinis, and from hiring in the high-end fashion industry to counselling high-risk youth. An unapologetic, outspoken feminist, Farah tells stories that reflect the diversity in her own life, and explores how women thrive in an uncertain world.

ELLEN KEITH

The Dutch Wife

“In The Dutch Wife, Ellen Keith illuminates an important but little known piece of history from World War II: the concentration camp brothels. Keith’s portrayal of Marijka’s courageous yet unfathomable choice is sensitive, graceful and unflinching - and in itself brave. Readers of The Nightingale will be rewarded by this original and unforgettable tale.” –Pam Jenoff, New York Times bestselling author of The Orphan’s Tale

In this remarkably assured and utterly compelling debut novel, Ellen Keith has written a sweeping story with the broad appeal of Jennifer Robson, the sophistication of Amor Towles, and the lyrical craftsmanship of Anthony Doerr.

From the Netherlands to Germany to Argentina, The Dutch Wife braids together the stories of three individuals who share a dark secret and are entangled in two of the most oppressive reigns of terror in modern history.

This is a novel about the blurred lines between love and lust, abuse and resistance, and right and wrong, as well as the capacity for ordinary people to persevere and do the unthinkable in extraordinary circumstances.

ELLEN KEITH is a 27-year-old writer of Dutch heritage currently residing in Amsterdam. She has an M.F.A. in creative writing from the University of British Columbia (UBC) and is an avid traveler with an awe-inspiring blog, La Viajera, where she documents her often daring adventures.

RISTO PAKARINEN

Someday, Jennifer

What if the only way forward is to go back?

Peter is stuck. The promise of his youth has petered out into a comfortable but lonely adulthood: his career is flat, his friendships exist only on Facebook, and his romantic life is well past its expiry date. But one night, spurred on by a viewing of Back to the Future after one too many drinks, he has an idea—that he will just go back. Back to the moment when his path stretched out ahead of him; when happiness was an everyday feeling, and not something to be chased. Back to when his worst problem was which pair of acid-washed jeans to wear; to when the perfect girl sat next to him in English class. Back to 1986.

Fired up by his new mission, Peter packs up his life, turns off his cellphone, and moves back into his teenage bedroom. He lets his hair grow long, stuffs himself into those same acid-washed jeans and resolutely ignores everything about the world that didn't exist in the mid-eighties. Throwing himself into the project of restoring his small town's old movie theatre, he hides his true objective from everyone—to get a second chance with the first (and only true) love of his life: that perfect girl beside him in English class, Jennifer.

But time travel is never without its complications, especially when everyone else around you remains in the present. When even his perfect 1986 starts to show its cracks, Peter is finally forced to answer the question, can you every truly go back?

RISTO PARKARINEN is a former hockey player and freelance journalist. Originally from Finland, he now lives with his family in Stockholm, Sweden. Someday Jennifer is his first book.

JEFFREY S. ROSENTHAL

Knock on Wood

Luck, Chance, and the Meaning of Everything

For centuries, people around the world have prayed for good luck and warded against bad. But is there such a thing as luck, or does luck often just explain common sense? Jeffrey S. Rosenthal, author of the international bestseller Struck by Lightning: The Curious World of Probabilities, was born on a Friday the thirteenth, a fact that he discovered long after he had become one of the world's pre-eminent statisticians. Had he been living ignorantly and innocently under an unlucky cloud for all those years? Or is thirteen just another number? As a scientist and a man of reason, Rosenthal has long considered the value of luck, good and bad, seeking to measure chance and hope in formulas scratched out on chalkboards.

In Knock on Wood, Rosenthal, with great humour and irreverence, divines the world of luck, fate and chance, putting his considerable scientific acumen to the test in deducing whether luck is real or the mere stuff of superstition.

JEFFREY S. ROSENTHAL is a professor of statistics at the University of Toronto, with a PhD in mathematics from Harvard. His first book, Struck by Lightning, was published in fourteen countries and in ten languages. Visit him at Probability.ca and on Twitter @ProbabilityProf.

LYNDSAY GREEN

The Well-Lived Life

Live with Purpose and Be Remembered

Legacy is about who we are and how we will be remembered. In this thought-provoking book, bestselling author Lyndsay Green compels us to think about our legacy and consider how we would feel if we knew our life would soon be over. We assume that we'll have time to think about our legacy; time to compose meaning for our lives; time to figure out our life's purpose; time to make amends; time to clean up our messy lives.

But what if we don't? Would our time on Earth have made a difference to anyone or anything? What would we be leaving behind for those we love? What responsibilities would be left dangling? Green's premise is that living with an eye to a future without us both enhances our present and shapes our legacy. With this awareness, we can lead inspired and fulfilled lives.

A pioneering sociologist and researcher, LYNDSAY GREEN is the author of the national bestsellers Ready to Retire? What You and Your Spouse Need to Know About the Reality of Retirement and You Could Live a Long Time: Are You Ready?

JIM BROWN

The Golden Boy of Crime The Almost Certainly True Story of Norman “Red” Ryan

For readers of The Devil in the White City and The Massey Murder, the incredible story of Norman “Red” Ryan—“the Jesse James of Canada” and the “Kardashian” of the 1920s and '30s

Norman “Red” Ryan was infamous in the 1920s and '30s until he was gunned down in an attempted robbery in Sarnia, Ontario. Ernest Hemingway wrote about Ryan’s escape from Kingston Penitentiary for the Toronto Star, Morley Callaghan based a novel on him and stories of Ryan and his crimes filled newspapers and airwaves. One of the first Canadians to be granted parole, he was held up by Prime Minister R. B. Bennett as a model of rehabilitation and became a regular guest at Toronto police picnics. All the while, however, Ryan was continuing a crime spree on the side.

JIM BROWN is a filmmaker, newspaper editor, and CBC Radio host. His first film, the feature documentary Radiant City, was named one of the 10 best films of the year at the 2006 Toronto International Film Festival.

LINDEN MACINTYRE

The Wake

A Tsunami, a Mining Disaster, and the Man Who Conned a Community

In the vein of Erik Larson's Isaac's Storm and Dead Wake comes an incredible true story of destruction and survival

On November 18, 1929, a tsunami struck Newfoundland's Burin Peninsula. Giant waves, three storeys high, hit the coast at a hundred kilometres per hour, flooding dozens of communities and washing entire houses out to sea. The disaster killed twenty-eight people and left hundreds more homeless or destitute, forever changing the lives of the inhabitants of the fishing outposts along the Burin Peninsula.

Scotiabank Giller Prize-winning writer Linden MacIntyre was born near St. Lawrence, Newfoundland, one of the villages virtually destroyed by the tsunami. The cod fishing industry lay in ruins and the village had become a mining town. MacIntyre's father, lured from Cape Breton to Newfoundland by a steady salary, worked in St. Lawrence in an underground mine that was later found to be radioactive. Hundreds of miners would die; hundreds more would struggle through shortened lives profoundly compromised by lung diseases ranging from silicosis and bronchitis to cancer. By the time the village returned to its roots and set up as a cod fishery once again, the stocks in the Grand Banks had plummeted and St. Lawrence found itself once again on the brink of disaster.

LINDEN MACINTYRE was the host of Canada's premiere investigative television show, the fifth estate, for nearly twenty-five years. His previous books include the bestselling novel The Long Stretch, Scotiabank Giller Prize winner The Bishop's Man, and his award-winning boyhood memoir, Causeway: A Passage from Innocence.

MARK BOWDEN AND TRACEY THOMSON

Truth and Lies

What People are Really Thinking

Understanding what people are really thinking, regardless of what they are saying, is an essential skill, whether you're at a job interview, a cocktail party, searching LinkedIn, or just swiping right on a dating site. The ability to comprehend the nuances of what others are trying to tell you via their posture, hand gestures, eye contact or incessant iPhone fiddling, might be even more important than what you're projecting yourself. Do they plan on making a deal with my company? Are they lying to me? Can I trust this person with my most intimate secrets?

Truth and Lies is a fresh, insightful guide to reading body language in the post-digital age. Bestselling authors Mark Bowden and Tracey Thomson illustrate the essential points of body language using actual examples in key situations, leavened with humor and insights that you can use to your advantage in virtually all walks of life.

MARK BOWDEN is the creator of TRUTHPLANE®, a communication training company with a unique methodology. He travels all over the world giving keynote speeches, and is the business presentation trainer for The Kellogg-Schulich Executive MBA, ranked #1 in the world by The Economist. Hundreds of thousands of people have watched his Tedx Talk, "The Importance of Being Inauthentic."

TRACEY THOMSON is the co-founder and VP Operations of TRUTHPLANE® and a business development specialist with a solid record in strategy, branding, sponsorship, sales, marketing, project management, and event organization.

J. PAUL NADEAU

Take Control of Your Life
Rescue Yourself and Live the
Life You Deserve

As a former police detective, hostage negotiator and international peacekeeper, J. Paul Nadeau spent more than thirty years working with victims and perpetrators and learning from top experts in abuse situations, murder investigations, hostage-takings, terrorist attacks and human behaviour in general. As a survivor of physical and emotional abuse by an alcoholic father, he experienced first-hand the loss of hope and destructive internal dialogue that can immobilize a person as effectively as any prison.

In Take Control of Your Life, Nadeau combines his personal experiences and insights from his many years in the field to help us overcome the self-sabotaging thoughts and attitudes that prevent us from becoming our best selves and achieving our dreams to the fullest.

J. PAUL NADEAU is an admired international keynote speaker and lecturer, specializing in how to successfully negotiate in business and in life and on how to turn conflict into opportunity. He is a regular guest on CNN and was the closing speaker at the Toronto TEDx conference in 2015. Visit him at JPaulNadeau.com.

GREG WELLS

The Ripple Effect

Sleep Better, Eat Better, Move Better, Think Better

In his new book, Dr. Greg Wells offers concrete strategies on how to get better and stay better—not just for a few weeks or a few months, but for life. Optimal well-being is obtained through a commitment to the “holy trinity” of healthy living—eating better, moving better, sleeping better. Together these lead to peak physical performance.

With tremendous insight into the physiology of the human body and the reasons mankind has evolved the way it has, The Ripple Effect exposes exercise and diet myths, inspiring you and leading you on a clear path to achieving a health and fitness transformation. With small—and very achievable—daily changes in your life, you’ll see the incredible effects of aggregate gains that professional athletes know.

You’ll learn how:

- Eating broccoli provides the body with more protein per calorie than eating steak
- Using one teaspoon less of sugar per day would help you lose four pounds of fat per year
- Walking for fifteen minutes per day decreases your risk of cancer by fifty per cent

And much more.

GREG WELLS, PhD, is a physiologist, researcher and professor of high-performance sports at the University of Toronto. Wells trains and coaches Olympic and elite athletes around the world and was the sports science and sports medicine analyst for CTV’s Olympic broadcasts.
