BIG JOBS FOR LITTLE BABIES

Who's Digging? (Big Jobs for Little Babies)

A BOARD BOOK

● WORDS BY KATRINA MOORE; PICTURES BY BENSON SHUM

A board book series exploring big careers based on Baby's favorite activities—in this case, digging!

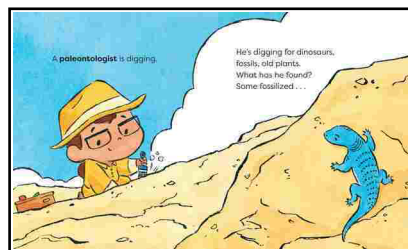

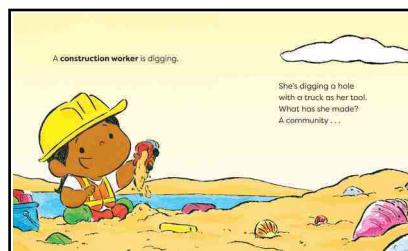

*She's digging for treasure. / Will Baby get lucky?
What's she discovered? / It's Baby's lost . . . DUCKY!*

What do a farmer, a construction worker, a paleontologist, an arborist, and a baby have in common? They're all amazing diggers, of course!

Big Jobs for Little Babies is a board book series exploring the core basics of major careers and how they relate to a physical activity toddlers love! In Who's Digging? take a look into the many vocations that involve digging—from a paleontologist unearthing fossils to a garden-tending farmer! With a fun, simple rhyme, five dramatic gatefold reveals, and a high-quality mirror on the final page of this sturdy board book, Who's Digging? will nurture the youngest explorer's curiosity about the world and their own bright futures.

Yellow Is a Banana

Are bananas yellow . . . or is yellow a banana? Learn all about yellow—and other colorful things—in this rollicking picture book from John Himmelman, author of the Bunjitsu Bunny series

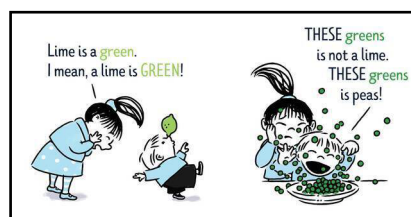

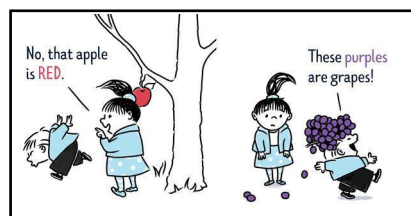

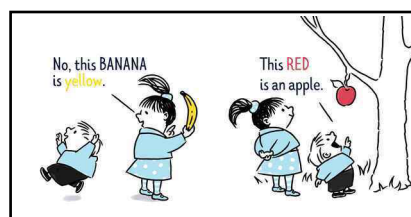

That yellow is a banana. No, a banana is yellow. These purples are grapes. No, these grapes are purple! This orange is a pumpkin. No, that pumpkin is orange! And this orange is . . . orange?

With two charming siblings and a fresh, limited palette that allows each featured color to really shine, young readers will learn as they laugh in this side-splittingly funny, unique picture book. John Himmelman is a naturalist, a martial arts instructor, and the award-winning author-illustrator of nearly 90 books for young readers, including the Bunjitsu Bunny series praised by School Library Journal as "Delightful . . . reminiscent of Arnold Lobel's 'Frog and Toad' stories or Jon Muth's ever-popular Zen Shorts." Himmelman lives in Killingworth, Connecticut, with his wife, Betsy, and their menagerie of dogs, cats, and chickens.

Make New Friends

- WRITTEN BY JOSHUA DAVID STEIN; ILLUSTRATED BY MARIACHIARA DI GIORGIO

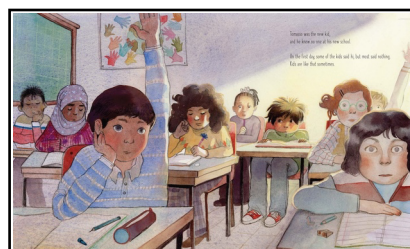

From an acclaimed team comes this empathetic and reassuring picture book about the loaded question that every “new kid” or socially anxious child dreads, “Did you make any new friends today?”

Tomasso doesn't know anyone at his new school and has no one to play with at recess. So, knowing his dad will ask, he resolves to make a few new friends. Each day his crew grows; there's Roland (a foam ball), Coco (a milk carton), and Karen (a very pink eraser). But when his dad insists on having his friends over for pizza, Tomasso knows that soon his secret will be out. Will his dad welcome his new friends, even if they're not who he expects?

Written for any child who struggles with making friends or social anxiety, and featuring warm, witty illustrations, Make New Friends is both silly and sincere, inviting kids to trust the unconditional love and acceptance of a parent.

Joshua David Stein is an author, editor, and musician. He is a professional restaurant critic and coauthor of several cookbooks and chef's memoirs as well as many children's books, including Can I Eat That?; Brick: Who Found Herself in Architecture; The Ball Book; The Invisible Alphabet; Solitary Animals: Introverts of the Wild; and Lunch from Home. He is the founder of The Band Books, a band that performs children's books to music. Stein lives in Brooklyn with his two sons, Achilles and Augustus, and a doggie, Hermione. Mariachiara Di Giorgio is an illustrator, storyboard artist, and concept designer. She is the illustrator behind two wordless picture books, Professional Crocodile with writer Giovanna Zoboli and the acclaimed The Midnight Fair with writer Gideon Sterer. Her work has been exhibited at the Bologna Children's Book Fair and with the New York Society of Illustrators. She lives in Rome, Italy.

Time to Go, Sid!

● BY ISABEL GREENBERG

A “big kid” gets ready to go all on their own—and on their own timeline—in this hilarious and quirky picture book about a child’s growing independence and imagination, from bestselling author–illustrator Isabel Greenberg

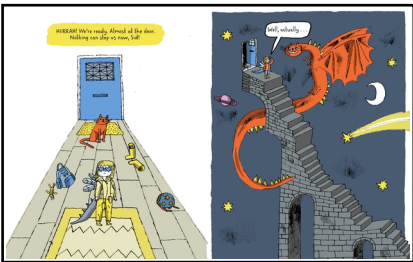

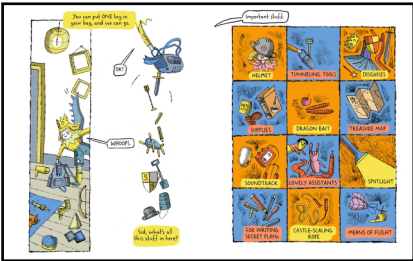

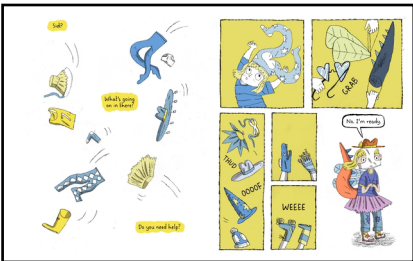

Shall we go to the park, Sid? Ready? Let's go!

It's time to go, and Sid doesn't need ANY help getting out the door. Getting dressed means highly creative outfits; eating breakfast requires elaborate contraptions; going to the bathroom is an opportunity for practicing acrobatics. And of course, Sid must pack a bag filled with all of the Important Stuff, including snacks, disguises, dragon food, a map, and several trusted assistants (i.e. stuffed animals).

Imaginatively told through a child's-eye view and full of entertaining moments that parents will relate to, this delightful picture book by Isabel Greenberg follows a headstrong child moving through their own world at their own pace, in their "I can do it myself!" phase.

Isabel Greenberg is an award-winning illustrator, comic artist, and writer. She is the author-illustrator of the picture book The Midnight Babies, and the illustrator of A Hundred Billion Trillion Stars, which has more than 60,000 copies in print, won the Mathical Book Prize, and was named a Boston Globe Horn Book Award honor and "best of the year" by Amazon, Space.com, and the Planetary Society. Her graphic novels, including the New York Times bestseller The Encyclopedia of Early Earth, have received starred reviews, won the Best Book Award at the British Comic Awards, and received the Jonathan Cape/Observer/Comica Graphic Short Story Prize, among other praise. Greenberg has worked with a variety of clients, including the Guardian, Nobrow Press, The National Trust, and the New York Times. She lives in London and enjoys illustrating all things historical.

SELLING POINTS

Greenberg is a New York Times bestselling graphic novelist and the artist behind Young Hag and the Witches' Quest (four starred reviews) and the Tales of Great Goddesses series (Gaia and Athena, which received a starred review) on the Amulet list; and on ComicArts, the graphic novel Glass Town, which received two starred reviews. Of her picture book The Midnight Babies, Kenny Brechner wrote for Publishers Weekly, "a book so captivating that the fate of humanity must surely hinge squarely on its success."

CHILDHOOD MILESTONE:

Focuses on a universal stage of childhood where independent little ones begin to express their personalities and assert themselves. Sid's parent gives them space to do things independently (sometimes with hilarious results).

PARENT-CHILD BONDING: In a sweet, unexpected ending, the park trip is abandoned in favor of home playtime. Instead of getting frustrated at Sid's delays, the parent joins in on the fun.

LAUGH-OUT-LOUD: With quirky, irreverent humor reminiscent of Kate Beaton.

DISTINCTIVE ART: Greenberg's playful, bold style lends extra humor and whimsy to a memorably imaginative character.

Ren's Pencil

● WRITTEN AND ILLUSTRATED BY BO LU

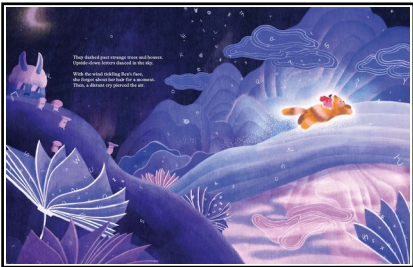

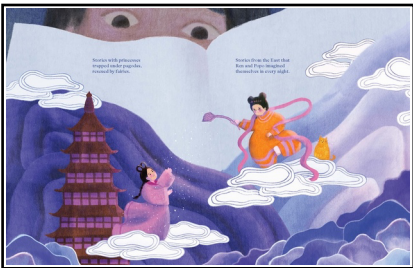

A beautifully illustrated tale of immigration and imagination, about the struggle to fit into a new place, make new friends, and see yourself in new stories—from Bo Lu, Ezra Jack Keats Illustrator Honor–winning creator of Bao's Doll

When her family moves to a new country, Ren is heartbroken to leave Popo and her magical stories behind. In her new home, nothing feels familiar—until Ren discovers that, with her pencil, she can bring to life what she can't find the words to say. Through drawing, she bridges the gap between her two worlds and transforms her loneliness into a meaningful connection.

Inspired by the childhood experiences of award-winning author-illustrator Bo Lu, this heartfelt picture book is a celebration of resilience, friendship, and finding a sense of belonging through art and storytelling.

Bo Lu moved from the bustling streets of Taipei to the quiet suburbs of Kansas as a little girl, knowing just three English words: Apple, Banana, and so-so. Before she could express herself in English, her drawings became the bridge between her two worlds. She now lives in San Mateo with her husband and their two daughters. Her debut book, Bao's Doll, won an Ezra Jack Keats Illustrator Honor and tells the story of a girl who, after stealing a doll, creates one that ultimately becomes the bridge connecting her and her immigrant mother.

SELLING POINTS

GROWING PROFILE: Lu's debut was praised as "a resonant debut" and "an immigrant story that heals wounds present and past" in trade reviews. Like Bao's Doll, this book tackles big feelings and complicated topics beautifully while centering the child reader.

HAROLD VIBES: Ren's pencil allows her to explore her dreams and imagination and express who she is, in a nuanced modern twist on Harold and the Purple Crayon.

ASIAN-AMERICAN IMMIGRANT STORY: Ren struggles to settle into life in the United States and longs to return to her old home before making a new friend. These themes can speak to many immigrant children in the US—and are deeply personal for Lu, who struggled with moving from Taipei to Kansas as a young girl. As proven by the massive success of titles like Eyes that Kiss in the Corners, books that feature Asian American protagonists and show cultural pride are very much in demand.

AWESOME ILLUSTRATIONS: Lu's illustrations are cool and inviting, seamlessly blending the real and the imaginary through Ren's eyes. Lu's style here takes a touch of inspiration from funky art of the sixties and seventies, like Milton Glaser's posters and Sendak's In the Night Kitchen, resulting in a very unique book.

Also includes quotes from contemporary performers telling about their first time on the Opry stage!

Howdy! I'm the home of country music. On my famous stage, history is made and stars are born. Do you like to sing and play an instrument? Do you like to dance or make people laugh? Well, this is the place to do it!

Get ready for your Grand Ole Opry debut in this showstopping picture book featuring the most famous stage in country music! After receiving your backstage pass, you'll take a tour behind the scenes, spruce up your costume in the dressing room, and warm up with the band. And when the curtain starts to rise—it'll be time to start the show! And you're on center stage! Filled with fun, dazzling illustrations and photos of celebrated performers from yesterday and today, this official picture book from the Grand Ole Opry will inspire all readers both young and old.

The Grand Ole Opry features today's country music stars, superstars, and rising stars all on one stage, every week in Nashville, Tennessee—Music City, USA. Their world-famous show is where aspiring stars dream of playing and music lovers connect with their favorite artists up close. From the radio show that made it famous in 1925 to the cultural landmark and global phenomenon it is today, the Opry is country's biggest stage. Emily Frans is the Director of Archives and Content for Opry Entertainment Group and has been passionate about music for as long as she can remember. Growing up in Mesquite, Texas, her love for country music ignited a deep curiosity about its people and history, which led to countless hours reading books on the subject and dreaming of moving to Nashville. While studying music business and public relations at Middle Tennessee State University, Emily landed her dream job at the Grand Ole Opry. She lives in Brentwood, Tennessee, with her husband, Scott, their two daughters, Harper and Evie, and their dogs, Minnie and Rosie, and cat, Olive. Susanna Chapman is an illustrator, muralist, and designer. Brain Train

AN OFF-THE-RAILS JOURNEY FROM A TO ZZZ

● BY CHARLIE MYLIE

For fans of P Is for Pterodactyl, this groundbreaking alphabet picture book from rising star Charlie Mylie is chock-full of letter shape seek-and-finds and other literacy-building twist and turns that will keep readers coming back for more

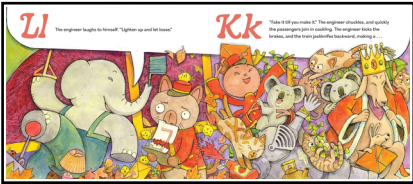

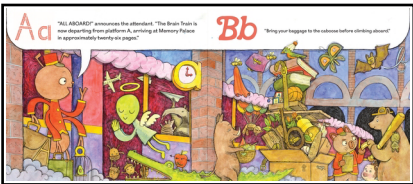

All aboard the brain train! The conductor has mapped out a smooth route from A to Z, but when the train goes off the tracks, the whole alphabet goes off the rails! What's I doing next to G? Shouldn't Q come before R? Does anyone know how to get out of O?

The train has to fly through the fog at F, slip past sea creatures at S, and hitch a ride with the horned horses at H if they want to make it safely to the memory palace. Written to reinforce readers' literacy building blocks, this totally twisted take on the ABCs is both a joy to read and a tool for new readers.

With seek-and-find elements on every page, kids and caregivers are sure to return to this hilarious alphabet book over and over again.

Charlie Mylie is an author and illustrator living the dream in Kansas City, Kansas. It's only occurring to him now that his interdisciplinary art degree from Kansas City Art Institute might have actually helped in making children's books. His wife and preschooler, however, have had a significant, obvious impact on his work and life, while the cat has contributed nothing. Mylie wants to keep exploring, for as long as he is allowed, how words and pictures-together-help us making sense of this confounding world.

SELLING POINTS

RIISING STAR CREATOR: Mylie's picture books are well-received, and he innovates his style with every new title. We Might See was called "a vivid, child's-eye view of the world" by Kirkus, and his latest book, Hello Day, received a starred review from Publishers Weekly.

EYE-CATCHING PACKAGE: Bold colors and pages overflowing with seek-and-find illustrations make up the lively, energetic artwork for this picture book. Brain Train is sure to make an impact on bookstore tables.

LITERACY BUILDER: Written with lots of alliteration and letter repetition, this lively read mimics the way kids learn to recognize letters, words, and sounds. It's the perfect building block for everyone from little ones learning their letter shapes to emerging readers building words and caretakers who are along for the ride.

ELEVATED SEEK-AND-FIND: On each page, readers can pore over the illustration to find the appropriate letter shape hidden in the artwork. Close readers will also notice objects whose names start with that letter in the illustration. Back matter will include an author's note about literacy building as well as an answer key.

A girl torn between two worlds . . .

Turtle is scavenging a drowned town when she saves a stranger's life. There's something special about Kai—an attraction she's never felt before. She would do anything to see him again.

But Turtle can never truly be with Kai, because Kai is Normal, and Turtle is one of the Mer, kids whose genes were illegally hacked before birth and who now have working gills as well as lungs. Turtle lives on an old cruise ship with the other Mer in order to be close to the water she needs to survive.

Yet she sneaks away and lies to her friends to spend more time on land with Kai. And the pull of the shore grows even stronger when Turtle reconnects with her sisters and learns that her father, who has been in prison for having her genes modified, has escaped and may be hiding out nearby.

When scientists come up with a way for the Mer to surrender their gills and live as Normals, Turtle faces a terrible choice. Turtle loves her life with her Mer friends, but she desperately misses her family. And then there's Kai . . .

Should she give up her Mer community and their way of life, along with the joy of living freely under the sea? Or give up the guy she's falling for . . . and any hope of reconnecting with her family?

Smoke & Mirrors

A NOVEL

● BY ROSALYN RANSAW

An exciting and twisty middle-grade debut mystery novel—perfect for fans of From the Desk of Zoe Washington and The Parker Inheritance—about the disappearance of a famous magician, and one boy’s quest to find the truth

Spending the summer with his aunt as the only Black kid in a small Midwestern town was bad enough, but now Andy Carter’s summer has been effectively ruined. His dad’s parole hearing is postponed, he misses his friends, and—when an old barn burns down—he’s stuck taking the blame. Andy is sentenced with helping the barn’s owner, a cantankerous old man, renovate his crumbling mansion—a mansion that hides a mystery. It was once owned by the famous magician the Red Nave. In 1954, the Nave was a wanted suspect in the town’s most infamous murder before disappearing without a trace.

The whole town is sure the Red Nave is guilty, but to Andy, things just don’t add up. Investigating a mystery from the ’50s isn’t the same as spending time with his dad, but Andy can’t help but be drawn into the Red Nave’s exciting world of magic and illusion. To solve the Nave’s final vanishing act, Andy teams up with another boy he doesn’t quite trust. Secret by secret, they try to uncover the Red Nave’s identity and learn why his last performance came to such a tragic end.

With a gripping combination of hidden doors, shocking twists, and deep emotional heart, Smoke & Mirrors asks the question: How much of the truth is what you can get people to believe?

Rosalyn Ransaw is a Columbia University graduate living in Columbus, Ohio. When not writing, she works as a digital marketing manager and enjoys claiming her best friend’s dog as her own. Smoke & Mirrors was loosely inspired by her time working as a small-town summer camp counselor and witnessing the way white children’s side of the story was always easier believed, coupled with her mother’s unshakable belief that the only difference between illusion and magic is perspective.

Once Bitten, Twice Dead (A Monster High YA Novel)

● BY TIFFANY SCHMIDT

Get your spook on with Draculaura and the other O.G.s—Original Ghouls—while they hit up their old haunts in this all-new YA novel set in the world of Mattel’s Monster High and written by Tiffany Schmidt.

When a horrific loss throws Monster High into a state of grave upheaval, Draculaura and the other ghouls find themselves coping in different ways. Cleo and her family sense opportunity in the mayhem, grasping at control and leaving the rest of the ghouls’ loyalties divided.

For her part, the chaos at school is making Draculaura sick. She feels more exhausted by the day, and she finds escape only by slipping away to the cemetery to pore over her mom’s old journals. It’s there that she meets Poe, a handsome human harboring some darkness of his own. Soon Draculaura finds herself caught in an impossible web of lies. If her ghoulfriends find out she’s fallen for a normie, they’ll freak. And if Poe discovers she’s a vampire, his monster–hunting dad may have a stake in the matter.

Meanwhile, dangerous events have begun plaguing the halls of Monster High. The gargoyles stage a mutiny, and the water in the swimming pool boils while Lagoona is swimming laps. When the magical protections around the school borders falter and a group of normies stumble onto campus, Draculaura and the other ghouls know something needs to be done before Monster High becomes Monster Die.

But there’s a secret about Draculaura that no one—not Poe, the other ghouls, or even she—was aware of until now: a secret tied to the school’s very marrow. When Draculaura and Ghoulia uncover ancient texts that reveal the full implications of her identity, Draculaura is forced to make an impossible choice that will alter her identity forever.

Will her loyalties to Monster High determine all their fates? Or will Draculaura succumb to a dangerous passion that makes her feel more . . . alive than she ever has?

Tiffany Schmidt is the author of Once Bitten, Twice Dead in addition to nine other acclaimed young adult novels. She is a former sixth grade teacher and is married to a saint, the mother of three impish boys, and owns a pair of mischievous pups. Tiffany lives and writes in Doylestown, Pennsylvania. SONG OF THE LIONESS

Song of the Lioness, Book 1: Alanna

A GRAPHIC NOVEL ADAPTATION

● BY TAMORA PIERCE; ADAPTED BY VITA AYALA; ILLUSTRATED BY SAM BECK

The first book in #1 New York Times bestselling author Tamora Pierce’s award-winning Song of the Lioness quartet, adapted into a gorgeous, full-color graphic novel

In Song of the Lioness, Book 1: Alanna, the first of four volumes adapting #1 New York Times bestseller Tamora Pierce’s Song of the Lioness quartet, we meet Alanna of Trebond, a young noblewoman from the kingdom of Tortall. However, Alanna isn’t like other girls from noble families—what she really wants is to become a knight and earn her shield, something women definitely aren’t allowed to do.

But Alanna will not be deterred, and she arrives in the capital disguised as a boy to begin training as a page, the first step toward becoming a knight. Despite the tough conditions and grueling work, Alanna’s skills and stubbornness win her friends amongst the nobility and the denizens of the lower city. But not everyone wishes her well . . .

Filled with magic and mayhem, adventure and action, swords and spells, book one in the Song of the Lioness quartet is the ultimate introduction to Alanna and Tamora Pierce’s legendary Tortall universe.

Tamora Pierce is the #1 New York Times bestselling author of over 18 novels set in the fantasy realm of Tortall. She is the winner of the Margaret A. Edwards Award for her "significant and lasting contribution to young adult literature." Pierce lives in Syracuse, New York, with her husband, Tim. Vita Ayala is a queer Afro–Puerto Rican writer born and bred in New York City. Their work includes The Wilds (Black Mask Studios), Submerged (Vault), Static (DC Comics), Xena: Warrior Princess (Dynamite), Shuri and New Mutants (Marvel), and Livewire (Valiant), among others. Sam Beck is an artist living in Toronto, and the author of the fantasy trilogy Verse. When she’s not working on her comics, you can find her admiring the forests of northern Ontario.

SELLING POINTS

EVERGREEN SERIES: The Song of the Lioness series is classic, one of Time’s 100 Best Fantasy Books of All Time. Originally published in 1983, this title has never gone out of print, with lifetime sales nearing 500,000 copies across editions (since Bookscan began reporting—actual sales much higher).

LGBTQ–FOCUSED: In 2019, Pierce said, “Alanna has always defied labels. She took the best bits of being a woman and a man and created her own unique identity. I think the term is ‘gender–fluid,’ though there wasn’t a word for this (to my knowledge) when I was writing her.” With feminist themes and a diverse cast, and examined through this new queer lens, this story is timelier than ever.

TALENTED CREATORS: Ayala and Beck are stars in the comics community. Ayala has written for publishers such as DC Comics, Dynamite, IDW, Image Comics, Marvel, Macmillan, and Valiant. Beck has worked with Valiant and Dark Horse, and her webcomic, Verse, was published by Wonderbound in 2021.

BIG IDEAS THAT CHANGED THE WORLD

Keep It Clean!

BIG IDEAS THAT CHANGED THE WORLD #7 (A NONFICTION GRAPHIC NOVEL)

● WRITTEN AND ILLUSTRATED BY DON BROWN

Part of the Big Ideas That Changed the World graphic novel series, award-winning author-illustrator Don Brown explores the history of dealing with poop, pee, and dirty hands in Keep It Clean!

Keep It Clean! explores the concept of public health, which means ensuring clean water and adequate sewage disposal for everyone. Acclaimed author-illustrator Don Brown takes readers on a journey through history and around the world, from Greek, Roman, and Aztec aqueducts and the dawn of bathing (including social public bathing in Japan and religious bathing ceremonies in Machu Picchu) to the invention of soap in the Middle East, the first use of flush toilets approximately 4,000 years ago, and the first toilets used in outer space—a Big Idea when you consider that early astronauts on Apollo 11 had none!

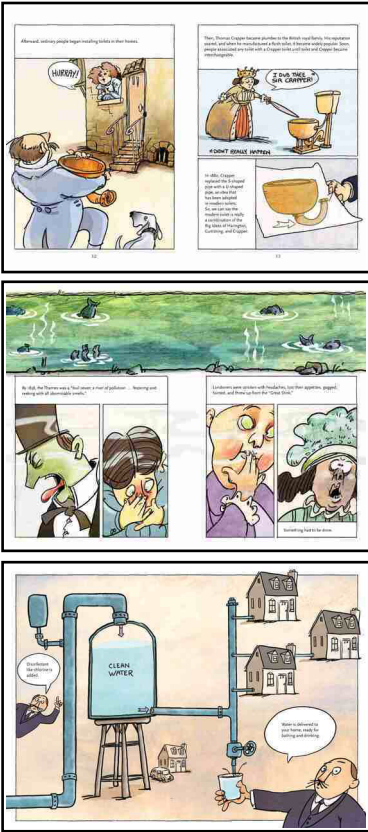

Full of facts and colorful historical figures, Brown chronicles both historical mishaps—like rivers full of human waste and King Henry VI’s notorious basement of poop—and monumental scientific breakthroughs including Louis Pasteur and Robert Koch’s discovery of the link between microbes (germs) and disease.

Breaking down concepts in an accessible, kid-friendly way, this nonfiction graphic novel shows why “keeping it clean” is vitally important whether it’s a city, town, home, or person.

Includes Who Was George Waring?, timeline, endnotes, and a bibliography.

Don Brown is the award-winning author and illustrator of many nonfiction graphic novels and picture books and has received an Eisner Award nomination, two Sibert Honors, a Boston Globe–Horn Book Award honor, a YALSA Excellence in Nonfiction for Young Adults Award, and multiple starred reviews, among other accolades. He lives in the Hudson Valley in New York.

Big Ideas That Changed the World is a graphic novel series that celebrates the hard-won succession of ideas that ultimately changed the world. Humor, drama, and art unite to tell the story of events, discoveries, and ingenuity over time that led humans to come up with a big idea and then make it come true.
