JESSE LIPSCOMBE is a popular speaker, actor, former athlete, activist and entrepreneur. Outside of the arts, Lipscombe invests in various businesses and runs a consultancy that works to combat racism, misogyny, homophobia and hatred.

THE ART OF DOING

A Guide to Getting Motivated, Getting Unstuck and Getting It Done

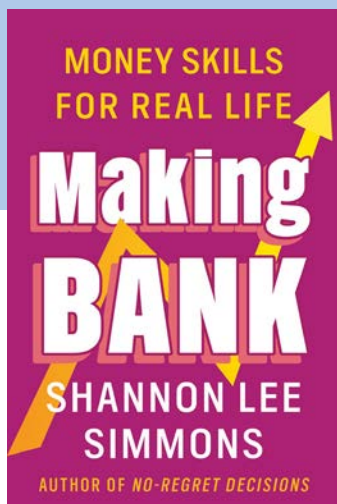

Jesse Lipscombe

From the wildly popular speaker, how to embrace a life of curiosity, action and adventure while still mastering your to-do list

In 2004, Jesse Lipscombe was training for the Athens Olympics. An internationally top-ranked high jumper, his dreams of making the podium were shattered when he had a mini-stroke just five months before the Olympics. Jesse's stroke was a turning point in his life and changed his entire outlook. Rather than a singular focus on achieving a goal like an Olympic medal, he began to focus on the "doing" – and a world of opportunity, wonder and happiness unfolded for him.

Lipscombe uses lessons from his life as an actor, speaker, writer, entrepreneur, pro-athlete and singer to craft a simple template that anyone can use to ensure they get out of the blocks and continue the momentum towards their dreams and goals. Sensible, practical and inspiring, The Art of Doing will help you do anything and everything you hope for.

CHRISTIAN ALLAIRE is an Ojibwe, French and Italian writer who grew up on the Nipissing First Nation reserve in Northern Ontario. He is currently a senior fashion and style writer for Vogue, where he works to bring Indigenous design and stories to the forefront of fashion. Allaire is based in Brooklyn, New York.

FROM THE REZ TO THE RUNWAY

Forging My Path in Fashion

Christian Allaire

Growing up on the Nipissing First Nation reserve, Christian Allaire wanted to work in the fashion industry, a future that seemed like a remote, and unlikely, dream

Christian Allaire was first introduced to style and design through his culture's traditional Ojibwe powwow regalia—ribbon skirts, beaded belts, elaborate headdresses. His unwavering interest in fashion led him to complete a journalism degree, and after landing his first big magazine job in New York City, Allaire found himself working at the epicentre of the international fashion industry. Yet he soon realized the fashion world—and his place in it—wasn't always quite as glamorous as he imagined it would be.

From grinding as an unpaid intern, to becoming a glitzy fashion editor at Vogue, Allaire writes with feeling about the struggle to find his place—and community—in the highly exclusive world of fashion. Full of joy, honesty, adversity, and great clothes, From the Rez to the Runway is a gripping memoir about how to achieve your dreams—and elevate others—while always remaining true to yourself.

THE MIGRANT RAIN FALLS IN REVERSE

A Memoir

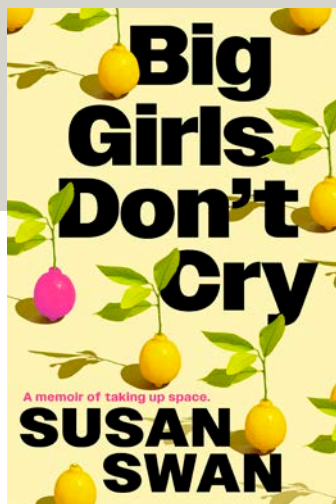

Vinh Nguyen

A compelling memoir about one man's harrowing escape from Vietnam and the mystery of his father's disappearance along the way

With the Fall of Saigon on April 30, 1975, the war in Vietnam ended, but the refugee crisis was only beginning. Among the millions of people who fled Vietnam by boat was Vinh Nguyen, along with his mother and siblings, and his father, who left separately and mysteriously vanished in the open waters. Decades later, Nguyen goes looking for answers. What he discovers is a sea of questions and buried truths.

As the fiftieth anniversary of the end of the Vietnam War approaches, Nguyen takes readers on a poignant tour of disappeared refugee camps, abandoned family homes and sinking boats. Along the way he examines strange reunions, stunted languages and unspoken conversations, and explores final films, migration photographs and impossible decisions.

BIG GIRLS DON'T CRY

A Memoir About Taking Up Space

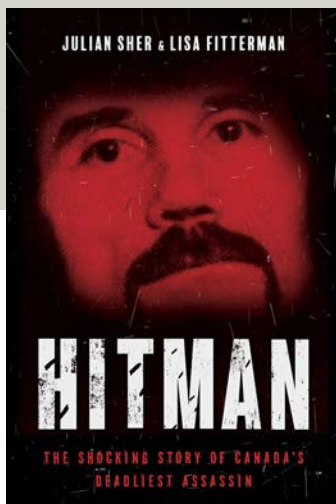

Susan Swan, with a foreword by Margaret Atwood

A memoir about what it means to defy expectations as a woman, a mother and an artist, for readers of Joan Didion and Gloria Steinem and listeners of the podcast Wiser than Me

Susan Swan has never fit inside the boxes that other people have made for her—the daughter box, the wife box, the mother box, the femininity box. Instead, throughout her richly lived, independent decades, she has carved her own path and lived with the consequences.

In this revealing and revelatory memoir, Swan shares the key moments of her life. Despite the costs to her relationships, Swan kept searching for the place she fit, living in the literary circles of New York while seeking pleasure and spiritual wisdom in Greece, and culminating in the hard-won experience of true self-acceptance in her seventies. Swan examines the expectations of women of her generation and beyond using the lens of her then-unusual height as a metaphor for the way women are expected not to take up space in the world. Inspiring and thought-provoking, Big Girls Don't Cry invites us to re-examine what we've been taught to believe about ourselves and ask how it could be different.

HITMAN

The Untold Story of Canada’s Deadliest Assassin

Julian Sher and Lisa Fitterman

The wild and gripping story of Yves “Apache” Trudeau, for true crime readers and fans of crime podcasts

For Yves Trudeau, the blood was all business. An assassin for the Hells Angels in the ‘70s and ‘80s, Trudeau was known as Apache, the Mad Bumper and the Mad Bomber, and he remains one of Canada’s most prolific serial killers. When he narrowly missed being assassinated because he was in rehab, he turned government informant and confessed to his crimes, which included killing forty-three people. But as a witness, Trudeau was a disaster, and his testimony led to so many acquittals that prosecutors avoided him.

Award-winning writers Julian Sher and Lisa Fitterman tell the incredible story of how this assassin escaped the police and the justice system for over a decade. A compelling and revealing account of corruption, incompetence and murder, Hitman is based on extensive research and exclusive new interviews with police, lawyers and bikers who knew Yves “Apache” Trudeau.

CONTEMPLATION OF A CRIME

Susan Juby

Buddhist butler and reluctant investigator Helen Thorpe bands together with her fellow butler school graduates to rescue her very wealthy employer and his son

Butler Helen Thorpe is not one to judge, but the participants in Close Encounters for Global Healing are astonishingly unpleasant.

The five-day program brings together people from across the political spectrum with the goal of helping them bridge their ideological and personal differences. The motley assortment of participants includes a burned-out environmental activist, an internet troll, a clued-out consumerist, an alleged white nationalist, and a man who was arrested at the Freedom Convoy. No one seems interested in a civil conversation, much less global healing, and each person has shown up with their own secret agenda.

No rapprochement between the warring or at least endlessly bickering parties seem possible. But when something deadly happens, they must learn to work together. First, they must figure out who among them can be trusted.
