“Books to Span the East and West”

Tuttle Publishing was founded in 1832 in the small New England town of Rutland, Vermont (USA). Our core values remain as strong today as they were then—to publish best-in-class books which bring people together one page at a time. In 1948, we established a publishing outpost in Japan—and Tuttle is now a leader in publishing English-language books about the arts, languages and cultures of Asia. The world has become a much smaller place today and Asia's economic and cultural influence has grown. Yet the need for meaningful dialogue and information about this diverse region has never been greater. Over the past seven decades, Tuttle has published thousands of books on subjects ranging from martial arts and paper crafts to language learning and literature—and our talented authors, illustrators, designers and photographers have won many prestigious awards. We welcome you to explore the wealth of information available on Asia at www.tuttlepublishing.com.

Chinese Folktales for Language Learners

Famous Folk Stories in Chinese and English

By Vivian Ling & Wang Peng

Illustrated by Yang Xi

Welcome to the fascinating world of Chinese folklore. The fifteen stories in this book address universal concerns such as the origins of humankind, the impact of wars and natural disasters, the great deeds of cultural heroes, the struggle for dignity and justice for the common man, and the yearnings of the human heart. These stories can be enjoyed in English by readers with no knowledge of Chinese, while the bilingual format and extensive notes are an added bonus for language students.

Each story is accompanied by a brief essay explaining its relationship to historical events in China and a charming illustration by artist Yang Xi. Detailed vocabulary lists, cultural notes, reading comprehension exercises, discussion questions and free online audio recordings in both English and Chinese are also provided for each story.

The fifteen classic tales in this book include:

- Taming the New Year's Beast—How the Lunar New Year's festival came about when the ferocious monster Nian was frightened away by sparks, explosive noises and the color red
- Two Virtuous Mothers of Ancient China—The philosopher Mencius's mother illustrates the importance of not wasting one's education through her efforts to ensure her son's success
- The Chinese Romeo and Juliet—A classic tale of star-crossed lovers—Zhu Yingtai, the beloved daughter of a local official, disguises herself as a young man to study in Hangzhou, where she meets her soulmate and develops strong feelings for him, with tragic results
- Judge Bao Takes on the Emperor's Son-in-Law—How the famous Judge Bao decides to right a wrong at all cost when the emperor's son-in-law, Chen Shimei, lies that he is single in order to become the imperial son-in-law

Vivian Ling was a professor of Chinese language and literature for over four decades. She taught at Oberlin College and Indiana University, and directed various Chinese language study-abroad programs in Taipei, Shanghai, Kunming and Beijing. She is the author of many Chinese language learning books including The Field of Chinese Language Education in the U.S. Vivian has co-authored four books with Wang Peng: Chinese Stories for Language Learners, Essential Chinese Grammar, Bilingual Treasury of Chinese Folktales and The Twelve Animals of the Chinese Zodiac.

Wang Peng has been on the faculty at Georgetown University since 2002, teaching various Chinese language courses including Business Chinese and Chinese for Heritage Learners. She was formerly the Chief Instructor at the Inter-University Program for Chinese Language Studies at Tsinghua University, as well as a visiting faculty at Oberlin College and Brown University.

Yang Xi is an up-and-coming artist and illustrator in China. Her distinctive style can be characterized as an amalgamation of classical and contemporary, Chinese and Western. She is currently a Master of Arts candidate at the Nanjing Art Institute College of Fine Arts.

Every culture in the world has its major holidays and each holiday has a story behind it. This folktale tells the story behind China's most important holiday, the Lunar New Year.

In ancient times there was a strange beast by the name of "Nián," which means "year." This beast had a huge unicorn jumping out from its forehead, sharp teeth, laser eyes that could pierce through one's heart, and spikes all over its body. This ferocious beast lived at the bottom of the ocean all year round, but on New Year's Eve it came on shore to gobble up domestic animals and attack people, especially children. Every

世界上每一种文化都有自己主要的节日，而每个节日都有一个故事。这一章讲述的是中国最重要的节日，也就是农历新年的故事。

古时候，有一种名叫“年”的怪兽。它的额头上长着一只又长又尖的犄角，牙齿很锋利，凶狠的目光可以刺穿人的心脏，而且全身也长满了尖刺。这种怪兽常年生活在海底，但每年的除夕就会上岸来吞食家畜并伤害人们，尤其是小孩。

During the Eastern Jin Dynasty (377-420), in Shangyu County, Kaifeng Prefecture, there was a local official named Master Zhu, who had a daughter named Yingxi. While this family raised their daughter to be a proper young lady of the times, she grew up with several older brothers and was allowed to study poetry and literature with them. She especially admired the historical and literary works of two eminent women writers of the Han Dynasty—Ban Zhao and Cai Wenji. She often wrote to relate their tales to her, but because she was a teenager, she longed to see a real scholar, but there was no one in the family who was near her hometown. She begged her father to let her go study at the Wansong Academy in Hangzhou, and of course he refused. Not one to give up easily, she devised herself up as an itinerant fortune-teller and went to her father to plead again, saying "According to my divination, it would be best to let your beloved daughter go to Hangzhou." Master Zhu could not bear to disappoint his daughter, and she did indeed look and sound like a lady, so he reluctantly agreed. But he ordered Yingxi to remain to also dress up as a young man to accompany him on the path to the academy. Master Zhu also made Yingxi promise to return home after three years, when she would have reached the proper age to be married.

¹ Between the two great dynasties of Han and Tang, China went through a period of disunion that lasted almost four centuries. As one of the Six Dynasties, Eastern Jin occupied a large territory that included the major cultural centers. It was politically unstable and disunited, but was notable for its cultural achievements.

In prehistoric times there was no sky and earth. The universe was just one undefined mass. Within this mass a giant by the name of Pan Gu had lain asleep for eighteen thousand years. One day he suddenly woke up to find himself plunged in total darkness. In a panic he grabbed a hatchet and swung it at the dark nothingness. "Hua!" the nothingness split open, the part above the crack slowly rose to form the sky, the part below gradually fell to become the earth.

To prevent the earth and sky from merging again, Pan Gu stood tall with his feet firmly planted on the earth and his arms holding up the sky. Every day the sky continued to rise, and Pan Gu continued to grow taller. Finally, the earth and sky became stable, and Pan Gu collapsed from exhaustion.

From this time on, Pan Gu's body continued to transform into various earthly elements. His breath became the winds and clouds, his voice became roaring thunder, his eyes became the sun and the moon, his four limbs became the four cardinal directions, his skin spread out to form plains, his blood became flowing rivers, even his sweat became the rain that nourished a myriad of plants. That's how the natural world was created.

Eons later the goddess Nü Wa came into this world. But she found it to be a lonely place, as though something was missing.

在这古代，她还有生命存留，宇宙还没有一息混沌，一名叫“盘古”的人在这混沌之中睡了一万八千年。有一天，盘古忽然醒过来了，发现自己困在一个圆盖之中。盘古拿起一把巨斧，砍断圆盖，“咔嚓”一声巨响，圆盖落下来了，裂开了缝。慢慢地升起来了，渐渐地升到了天空，升到了太阳那里去。

为了不让圆盖掉下来，盘古用那把巨斧顶住了圆盖，顶得高高地悬在空中。一天又一天升去，盘古也一日比一日大。终于有一天，天悬稳了，盘古也筋疲力乏倒在了地上。

后来，盘古的身体慢慢变成了世间万物，他呼出的气变成了风和云，他的声音变成了隆隆的雷声，他的眼睛变成了太阳和月亮，他的四肢变成了东南西北四方，他的腿变成了东南西北，他流下的汗水变成了江河和湖泊，他的血液变成了滋润了自然界的草木，他流下的眼泪变成了滋润了自然界的雨露。

很久很久以后，女娲来到了这个世界上，不过她跟很很孤单，很孤单，她缺少了一样东西。

The reign of the Yellow Emperor was a golden age of inventions. With the rise in civilization, governing a society became more complex and the need for record keeping grew enormously. Cang Jie had an amazing memory, so he was appointed by the emperor to keep accounts of domesticated animals and stored food. Eventually, Cang Jie realized that his memory was no longer adequate, so he devised an ingenious system of tying objects to strings. To designate different objects and denominations, he used strings of various colors, different knots, and tokens like shells of different sizes and shapes. This system made Cang Jie's

Korean for K-Pop and K-Drama Fans

Essential Korean Phrases for Everyday Use

By Soohee Kim and Emily Curtis

Essential phrases for any situation—whether watching your favorite K-drama series, catching up on the latest K-Pop news, hanging out with your friends, dealing with your boss, posting on social media, meeting the love of your life or recovering from a broken heart.

Each chapter presents a range of short conversations with vocabulary lists and key grammar tips. Every conversation is presented in Korean Hangul script as well as romanized

Korean and English. Online audio recordings by native speakers make it easy to practice the conversations to improve your Korean pronunciation!

Korean for K-Pop and K-Drama Fans presents the language you actually need in real life situations. Useful phrases in this book include:

- Pandora's new song is an All-Kill!
- I got a ton of followers
- Online shopping is my downfall
- I drank 5 bomb shots last night
- I acted like a total idiot
- U so cute!
- You and your girlfriend are just so cringe!
- You dumb-ass
- OMG, no way!
- My hubby's on a biz trip

Whether you're looking to expand your knowledge of Korean slang, or are a K-pop and K-drama fan, this book contains a treasure trove of useful phrases and information.

Soohee Kim received her Ph.D. in Linguistics from the University of Washington, where she taught Korean language, culture and linguistics for 17 years. She is the author of Korean Flash Cards and the lead author of You Speak Korean!, Easy Korean and Korean Hangul for Beginners.

Emily Curtis holds a Ph.D. in Linguistics and an Ed.D. from the University of Washington. She teaches courses in general linguistics, phonology and morphology at Western Washington University and is a consultant in intercultural communication and language pedagogy. She is the co-author of the Korean textbook series You Speak Korean! as well as Easy Korean and Korean Hangul for Beginners.

Korean Conversations and Debating

A Language Guide for Self-study or Classroom Use—Learn to Talk About Current Topics in Korean

By Juno Baik, Eunjin Gye and Julie Damron

Korean is currently the fastest-growing second language in the world, with a 95 percent increase in learners in the US in the last 10 years. As students move from the beginning to intermediate levels of language study, they need to develop and practice their conversation skills actively. This book meets that need with a collection of thought-provoking readings on controversial and topical subjects including artificial intelligence, virtual currency and declining birth rates in Asia. The book helps students develop their language skills in the following ways:

- Develop better reading skills by reading interesting passages on controversial topics
- Expand their vocabulary and ability to speak in Korean on a variety of subjects
- Consolidate their use of correct grammar and more natural-sounding sentences
- Develop the ability to express opinions clearly in both written and spoken Korean
- Use the art of persuasion and sophisticated verbal and written strategies in Korean

The topics and reading passages increase in difficulty as this book progresses from the lower-intermediate level up to a more advanced level by the end. Free online audio recordings are available for all the Korean passages along with a comprehensive Korean-English glossary.

Juno Baik is Assistant Professor of Korean at Brigham Young University. He received a Ph.D. in Korean Linguistics and Pedagogy from Kyung Hee University, Korea. He has trained teachers of Korean as a second language and taught at universities, government institutions and multinational corporations in Korea and the US since 2008.

Eunjin Gye is an adjunct lecturer of Korean in the Department of Asian and Near Eastern Languages at Brigham Young University. She has taught all levels of Korean at various Korean institutes and universities and in the United States as well as within the Korean government.

Julie Damron is Associate Professor of Korean and linguistics at Brigham Young University. She received her Ph.D. from Purdue University in linguistics and second language teaching. She currently heads the Korean Section at BYU and teaches courses in Korean language, linguistics and research design. Julie has created online classes that serve more than 1,000 high school and college students around the world. She is the co-author, with Juno Baik, of Tuttle's Learning Korean and Korean Stories for Language Learners.

Essential Vietnamese Grammar

A Comprehensive Guide for Foreign Learners

By Tri C. Tran

The twelve chapters in this book cover all the essential sentence constructions of Vietnamese—from beginning to advanced level. Strong emphasis is placed on the difference between translating directly from English, which yields awkward and incorrect sentences, and the use of idiomatic Vietnamese constructions and expressions. This book is suitable for self-study or for classroom instruction and is perfect for review and brushing up your language skills.

All Vietnamese grammatical patterns are clearly explained and illustrated through examples. The chapters progress from fundamental concepts (the sounds of Vietnamese, spelling, the use of accent marks and tones) to structural elements (parts of speech, grammatical functions, the structure of phrases and sentences), then to nuances expressed through word choice, word order and cultural elements.

Each chapter is accompanied by extensive exercises (with answer keys provided) that the learner can use to reinforce their understanding of the materials and their ability to apply them to real-life situations. Audio recordings by native speakers are available Online for all the Vietnamese sentences to help the learner acquire good pronunciation and intonation patterns for various types of sentences.

Tri C. Tran, PhD, teaches linguistics and Vietnamese at the University of California, Irvine. He obtained his PhD and MA in Romance Linguistics and Literatures from the University of California, Los Angeles, and his BA in Spanish Linguistics from the University of California, Irvine. His publications include Spanish and Vietnamese language textbooks and a bilingual dictionary for students of linguistics. He is the author of Reading and Writing Vietnamese and co-author of Vietnamese Stories for Language Learners, both published by Tuttle.

Burmese Stories for Language Learners

Short Stories and Folktales in Burmese and English

By A Zun Mo and Angus Johnstone

Aimed at beginning to intermediate language learners, this book introduces thirty stories from Myanmar in parallel Burmese and English versions presented on facing pages. It can be used as a reader in Burmese language courses or by anyone who simply wishes to enjoy stories from Myanmar, both modern and traditional, to develop a deeper understanding of the language and culture.

This elegantly illustrated volume is designed to help language learners expand their vocabulary as well as their listening and reading comprehension skills. The charming stories, which gradually increase in length and complexity as the book progresses, include:

- Yangon Diary—The Story of a typical day in the bustling capital of Yangon including having breakfast in a teashop and battling the constant traffic jams. This chapter teaches the basic ways the Burmese talk about their everyday lives.
- The Water Festival—A Story about the New Year's celebration of Thingyan, when people throw water at each other and the whole country turns into a big water fight!
- The Sound of the Harp—A tragic love story set in the ancient temple city of Bagan. When a princess falls in love with a harp player, the King is furious and barricades them in a cave to die. But to this day the harp can still be heard there on the night of a full moon.

Free online audio recordings of the stories to help students improve their pronunciation and comprehension skills. Cultural notes and discussion questions reinforce an understanding of the stories, and bolster language skills. An overview of the Burmese script is also provided.

A Zun Mo has been teaching all levels of Burmese, from beginners to advanced, since 2013. She is the author of Essential Burmese Phrasebook and Dictionary, and co-author of Reading & Writing Burmese with Angus Johnstone.

Angus Johnstone has worked as a teacher in Myanmar across a number of different settings from a social enterprise bakery to a government nursing university. His keen interest in the study of the Myanmar language continues to this day.

Chinese Language Writing Workbook

An Introduction to Chinese Characters with 110 Gridded and Lined Writing Sheets for Handwriting Practice

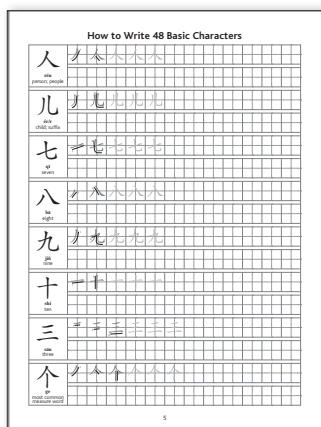

By Tuttle Studio

This essential workbook is designed for beginners to learn to write Chinese characters the correct way. The eight basic Chinese writing strokes are presented along with an explanation of how they are used to write characters. A brief introduction to Chinese pronunciation and tones is also provided along with useful vocabulary, greetings and expressions.

Step-by-step instructions and practice writing boxes are given for the 48 most common characters. Learners can write each character by simply tracing the strokes following the directional arrows given. The book has 110 additional pages with blank boxes for writing practice—extremely helpful to beginners when learning to write and memorize the basic characters.

At the back of the book, helpful tips are provided showing how the characters are combined to form words and sentences. Complete vocabulary lists for the Hanyu Shuiping Kaoshi (HSK) Level 1 and Level 2 proficiency exams vocabulary are also included. These lists contain all the characters which beginning first-year and second-year students are expected to know.

Free online audio recordings by native Chinese speakers give the correct pronunciations for all the characters, words and expressions in the book.

Learn 1,500 Arabic Words and Phrases

By Islam Farag

This lavishly illustrated dictionary presents the 1,500 key Arabic words and sentences that beginning learners need to know.

The book is organized into 38 thematic sections. Each section presents 25-35 vocabulary items and 5-8 sentences demonstrating their usage. Every word and sentence is given in the Arabic script along with a Romanized equivalent to help you pronounce it correctly—and with the English meaning.

Richly illustrated with over 700 color photographs, this incredibly useful language tool includes an introduction to the Arabic script and pronunciation as well as an English-Arabic index for quick reference. Free online recordings by native Arabic speakers are available for all the vocabulary and sentences, so students can learn their correct pronunciation!

Islam Farag is an instructor of Arabic at the University of Pittsburgh. He has been designing curricula and teaching Arabic as a foreign language for eight years at various US universities. He holds a master's degree in TESOL instruction from Missouri State University and is currently a Ph.D. candidate in Applied Linguistics at Indiana University of Pennsylvania.

Japanese Picture Dictionary

Learn 1,500 Japanese Words and Phrases

Timothy G. Stout

If a picture is worth a thousand words, students of the Japanese language will find everything they need in the new Japanese Picture Dictionary. Deftly illustrating the use of over 1,500 key Japanese words and phrases, author Timothy Stout gives learners a clear, easy-to-use introduction to this fascinating language.

Containing culture-specific Japanese words and images not found in other picture dictionaries, Stout provides the Japanese script forms along with Romanized pronunciations and English definitions. The words are grouped into 38 themes or topics, each with 35–45 words and several sentences, covering all the basic vocabulary—including the vocabulary that students need to pass the AP Japanese Language and Culture Exam and the N5 and N4 level JLPT proficiency exams. This book also includes a brief introduction to the Japanese language and free online audio recordings by Japanese native speakers demonstrating the correct pronunciation of all the vocabulary and sentences in the dictionary.

Richly illustrated with over 750 color photographs, the Japanese Picture Dictionary makes it easy for readers to boost their proficiency quickly and to review for their next visit to Japan!

Timothy G. Stout, Ph.D., lived and taught in Japan for 20 years. He currently teaches Japanese at Waterford School in Utah (USA).

Supernatural Tales from Japan

Ghosts, Goblins, Demons and Magic

By Yei Theodora Ozaki and Lafcadio Hearn

Illustrated by Sakyu

This collection of fifteen chilling tales brings to life a world where the supernatural and earthly realms are seamlessly intertwined. The ghosts, goblins and magical creatures in its pages are by turns mischievous, terrifying, protective and tender. Included in this anthology are:

- The Badger Haunted Temple—A brazen group of friends attempts to rid a temple of a gluttonous, shape-shifting goblin who has taken up residence there
- A Cherry Flower Idyll—A young man falls in love with the ethereal spirit of a cherry blossom tree and vows to find her in the mortal world
- The Story of Mimi Nashi Hoichi—A blind bard is summoned to recite the tale of a famous battle to the ghosts of its victims, only to find that his own life is at risk
- And twelve other supernatural tales—Including several that rarely appear in English!

Passed down through generations, these classic tales are beautifully retold by Lafcadio Hearn and Yei Theodora Ozaki, two great interpreters of Japanese folk traditions. This volume features a deluxe hardcover binding and sixteen all new, full-color illustrations by contemporary Japanese yokai artist Sakyu. It will be treasured by fans of yokai and Japanese culture, as well as anyone who enjoys a good ghost story.

Lafcadio Hearn was one of the earliest Western writers to publish stories and essays about supernatural Japan. He arrived in Japan in 1890 and fell in love with the country and its people. After marrying a samurai's daughter, he became a Japanese citizen and changed his name to Yakumo Koizumi. He began publishing books on Japan in 1894, soon becoming known as the great interpreter of all things Japanese to the West.

Yei Theodora Ozaki was born in Victorian England to a Japanese father and an English mother. After her parents' marriage ended, Ozaki began to travel the world, and to retell in English the traditional Japanese stories she loved. She later married Yukio Ozaki, a Japanese politician, and went on to publish several collections of Japanese folk tales.

Sakyu is an illustrator based in Osaka whose work frequently depicts yokai and other supernatural beings. Blending traditional styles with modern content, she brings humorous insights to life in Japan. Her work has appeared in museums in Japan and abroad, including the Museum of International Folk Art exhibit "Yokai: Ghosts & Demons of Japan" and the video game Samurai Bringer.

THE BADGER HAUNTED TEMPLE

Once long ago, in western Japan, in the town of Kamakura, there lived a young samurai, who had a great devotion to the sport of fishing.

One fine day he had more than usual luck. In the late afternoon, when he examined his basket, he found it full to overflowing. Highly delighted at his success, he walked the way home with a light heart, singing snippets of merry songs as he went along.

It was already dark when he happened to pass a deserted Buddhist temple. He noticed that the gate stood half open, and being lonely on his rusty blades, and the whole place had a disquieted and restless appearance.

What was the young man's impression to see, in striking contrast to such a before environment, a pretty young girl standing just within the gate. As he approached she came forward, and looking at him with a smiling

A CHERRY FLOWER IDYLL

About one hundred years ago, in the old capital of Kyoto, there lived a young man named Tatsi Shinkai. At the time this story opens he was about twenty years of age, of prepossessing appearance, amiable disposition, and refined tastes, his favorite pastime being the composition of poems. His father desired that Shinkai should finish his education in Edo, the Eastern capital, where he was accordingly sent. He passed himself as an scholar, more clever than his comrade-students, which won him the favor of the tutor in whose charge he had been placed.

Some months after his arrival in Edo, he went to stay at his uncle's house during convalescence from a slight illness. By the time he was well again the spring had come, and the call of the cherry-flower season found a ready response in Shinkai's heart, so he determined to visit Kiyomizu, a place famous for its cherry trees.

One fine morning he arose at dawn, and, equipped with a small hachemon

The Real Osamu Dazai

A Life in Twenty Short Stories

By Osamu Dazai

Translated and Introduced by James O'Brien

Best-known for his novels No Longer Human and The Setting Sun, Dazai was also an acclaimed writer of short stories, experimenting with a wide variety of styles and bringing to each work a sophisticated sense of humor, a broad empathy for the human condition and a tremendous literary talent. The twenty stories in this collection include:

- Memories—An autobiographical tale in which Dazai relates episodes from his own childhood and adolescence, highlighting his relationship with his family and his tendency toward introspection and self-dramatization
- On the Question of Apparel—A comic tour-de-force in which Dazai examines the hold that fashion has over him and how it relates to his own negative self-image
- A Poor Man's Got His Pride—A retelling of a story by the 18th-century master of burlesque fiction, Ihara Saikaku, about a fallen samurai who lives in poverty
- The Sound of Hammering—A love story set against the backdrop of the rebuilding of Tokyo after the city was completely destroyed during World War II
- And sixteen other stories!

By turns hilarious, ironic, introspective, mystical and sarcastic, these present a fully rounded portrait of a talented writer who tried several times to take his own life and ultimately succeeded. An introduction by translator James O'Brien gives the background to Dazai's life and shows how the stories in this book, whether autobiographical or fictional, contribute to an understanding of one of Japan's greatest writers.

Osamu Dazai (1909-1948) was the pen name of Shuji Tsushima, the tenth of eleven children born to a wealthy landowner and politician in the far north of Japan. Dazai studied French literature at the University of Tokyo, but never received a degree. He first attracted attention in 1933 when magazines began to publish his work. Between 1930 and 1937, he made three suicide attempts, a subject he deals with in many of his short stories. Despite his troubled life and rebellious spirit, Dazai wrote in a simple and colloquial style, conveying his personal torments through literature. Dazai's life ended early in a double suicide with a married lover.

James O'Brien is Professor Emeritus at the University of Wisconsin-Madison and has published several translations of both modern Japanese fiction and poetry. His most notable work is the short story collection Crackling Mountain and Other Stories by Osamu Dazai. He has also published modern translations of poetry by Hagiwara Sakutarō, Kitahara Hakushū, Miyoshi Tatsuji, Takamura Kotaro, and Murano Shiro, and modern tanka by Yosano Akiko.

No Longer Human

By Osamu Dazai

Translated by Juliet Winters Carpenter

No Longer Human is the story of Yozo Oba who, from an early age, finds it impossible to form meaningful relationships with family or friends. As a child he copes by acting the fool—mocking himself while entertaining others. As an adult he turns to alcohol, sex and drugs, which lead to his eventual self-destruction.

In this novel, based closely on his own life, Dazai skillfully leads the reader to sympathize deeply with Oba. Although the book was published in 1948, the timeless and universal themes of social alienation, failure, and one man’s inner torture at his inability to feel like a normal human still resonate with young people everywhere, making this an enduring international classic.

After Sōseki Natsume, Osamu Dazai is Japan’s most popular writer. Dazai is enjoying a surge in interest among young people today thanks to the success of the manga, anime and film series Bungo Stray Dogs, whose protagonist, a detective named Osamu Dazai, is based on the real-life author.

Osamu Dazai (1909-1948) first attracted attention in 1933 when magazines began to publish his work. Between 1930 and 1937, he made three suicide attempts, a subject he deals with in many of his short stories. Despite his troubled life and rebellious spirit, Dazai wrote in a simple and colloquial style, conveying his own experiences. Dazai’s life ended early in a double suicide with a married lover.

Juliet Winters Carpenter is an award-winning American translator of modern Japanese fiction who studied at the University of Michigan and the Inter-University Center for Japanese Language Studies in Tokyo. After completing her studies, she returned to Japan where she became involved in translation and teaching. She is professor emerita at Doshisha Women’s College of Liberal Arts in Kyoto and has received numerous awards for her translation work including the William F. Sibley Memorial Award for Japanese Translation for her rendering of Mizumura Minae’s An I-Novel and the Lindsey and Masao Miyoshi Translation Prize for a lifetime of achievement as a translator of modern Japanese literature.

Japanese Tales of Fantasy and Folklore

Ninety Stories about Ghosts, Demons and Other Supernatural Beings from the Konjaku Monogatari

Translated by Naoshi Koriyama and Bruce Allen

The Konjaku Monogatari Shu is a collection of tales from Buddhist and popular Japanese folklore that was compiled in the twelfth century. The stories tell of fearsome demons, tengu goblins, kitsune fox spirits, flying hermits and gods who suddenly appear out of nowhere to rescue foolish humans. There are tales of vengeful animals, robbers, bandits and murderers, as well as ordinary folk from all walks of life.

This volume contains the largest collection of Konjaku Monogatari stories ever published in English. It presents the low and the high, the humble and the devout—and the flirting, farting and fornicating of everyday men and women. The ninety tales in this book include:

- A Clerk from Higo Province Escapes from a Demon's Scheme—A traveling man on horseback is invited to rest in a woman's house. But he soon realizes she is a demon, and takes refuge in a cave, as the demon eats his horse. From deep in the cave comes the voice of another demon and the man prays to Kannon, the Goddess of Mercy. Will his prayers be heard?
- Empress Somedono is Seduced by a Tengu Goblin—A beautiful empress is plagued by an evil spirit, who is banished by a mystical high priest. Delighted, her father asks the priest to live in the palace, but the priest falls in love with the empress. The only way he can make her fall in love with him is to take the form of a tengu goblin and cast a spell over her.
- A Fox Whose Ball is Returned Repays a Man's Kindness—A sorceress called to exorcise a haunted house discovers the spirit is a kitsune fox. A beautiful white ball materializes, belonging to the kitsune. A samurai watching the exorcism snatches it. Desperate, the kitsune begs for its ball back, promising to protect the samurai, who reluctantly agrees. One night, lost in the dark, the samurai calls on the kitsune for help and is guided safely home.

Naoshi Koriyama taught at Toyo University in Tokyo and is now Professor Emeritus. He is the translator of Like Underground Water: The Poetry of Mid-Twentieth Century Japan and numerous other books of verse.

Bruce Allen is Professor in the Department of English Language and Literature at Seisen University in Tokyo. He has translated several works of the Japanese writer Ishimure Michiko, including her novel Lake of Heaven.

Korean Folktales

Classic Stories from Korea's Enchanted Past

Compiled and Translated by Kim So-un, Frances Carpenter and Setsu Higashi

Told with wit and pathos, this lively collection of Korean fables features the ever-iconic tiger, the humble woodcutter, clueless brides, clever talking rabbits, mischievous mice and other engaging characters in situations where folly, wisdom, greed, love, reward and retribution are all found in equal measure.

Fantasy and reality merge in a world where supernatural occurrences are commonplace. A blind man can suddenly see evil spirits. A spoiled child is taught a lesson by a sassy mouse.

A menagerie of creatures—too clever for their own good—possess the same foibles as humans. Among the many stories and characters you will meet here are:

- The Tiger and the Rabbit—In which a baby rabbit outsmarts a greedy, foolish tiger
- A Korean Cinderella Tale—Where a magical creature or two help an oppressed but virtuous girl to win out in the end
- The Magic Hood—About how magic, if used for ill purposes, can lead to big trouble
- Rice from a Cat's Fur—In which a devoted cat keeps a family from going hungry and brings them prosperity
- And forty other enchanting tales!

This collection is unparalleled in its scope and is the perfect introduction to Korea's rich storytelling tradition—containing classic legends and fables that will delight young and old alike!

Kim So-un studied poetry and folklore before working for a major newspaper in Seoul and as Chief Editor of the Korean Children's Educational Institute. He published 23 works in Korean and Japanese in a range of genres including poetry, folktales, folklore, folk songs and critical essays.

Frances Carpenter had a love of foreign lands and cultures, which she observed closely during her extensive travels—first with her journalist and author father and later with her diplomat husband. She traveled extensively throughout the world and served as a fellow of the Royal Geographical Society and Vice President of the International Society of Woman Geographers.

Setsu Higashi was raised and educated in Vancouver, Canada and moved to Tokyo in 1940 when her husband, Shinobu Peter Higashi, was transferred there by the Associated Press. She honed her storytelling style on her son, an avid listener of her bedtime tales.

Hōjōki

A Buddhist Reflection on Solitude, Imperfection and Transcendence

By Kamo no Chōmei

Translated by Matthew Stavros

Illustrated by Reginald Jackson

Hōjōki is an introspective poem written in the 13th century by the enigmatic Japanese writer Kamo no Chōmei, who as a young man served as official court poet in the capital, but later in life became a recluse.

Composed in a time of devastating fires, floods, earthquakes and famines, Chōmei’s verses reflect on the impermanence of things, expressing life’s mysteries and the profound wisdom to be found in nature.

Chōmei paints a vivid picture of the chaos and suffering of the human condition. But amidst all this, he discovers an oasis of calm in a simple mountain hut, where he contemplates the virtues of nature and the wabi sabi beauty of imperfection in all things.

This new translation by Matthew Stavros, presented alongside the original Japanese, perfectly captures the profound serenity of Chōmei’s text. His poignant verses serve as timely reminders that true contentment can be found in embracing fleeting moments and in seeking solace in nature’s beauty.

Kamo no Chōmei was a Japanese poet, musician and essayist who died in 1216. While in his fifties, he became a recluse, moving to Mount Hiei outside Kyoto then to Hino, where he built a tiny hut and spent the rest of his life writing and contemplating.

Matthew Stavros holds a PhD from Princeton University and is senior lecturer in Japanese and Asian Studies at the University of Sydney and former director of the Kyoto Consortium for Japanese Studies. He is the author of Kyoto: An Urban History of Japan’s Premodern Capital and In Praise of Solitude: Two Japanese Classics on Reclusion.

Reginald Jackson is an artist and associate professor of pre-modern Japanese literature and performance at the University of Michigan and author of Textures of Mourning: Calligraphy, Mortality, and the Tale of Genji Scrolls and A Proximate Remove: Queering Intimacy and Loss in The Tale of Genji.

The Water Margin: Outlaws of the Marsh

The Epic Tale of Brotherhood, Bravery and Rebellion in Imperial China

By Shi Naian

Translated by J.H. Jackson

Introduction by Edwin Lowe

The Water Margin is an epic tale set in 12th century Imperial China, one of the earliest and greatest masterpieces of Chinese fiction. Weaving together historical details and memorable characters, it tells the exciting story of a rebellion against tyranny set amidst the turmoil of a crumbling empire.

In this action-packed story, a desperate band of outlaws are thrown together by fate and a shared desire for justice. They are pursued to remote marshes near Liangshan Mountain by corrupt officials, where their popularity among the local populace quickly grows. Through intricate schemes, epic battles, narrow escapes and unexpected treachery, the heroes fight to the death for freedom and for their loyalty to one another.

Famous for its bawdy language, this new Tuttle edition restores passages omitted in all other English versions because they were thought to be too racy. A detailed introduction by Edwin Lowe explains how the book's core message of courage and loyalty has captured the imagination of Chinese readers and continues to resonate with them today.

Shi Naian is considered to be one of the greatest writers in all of Chinese literature. In addition to authoring The Water Margin, he was mentor to Lo Kuan-chung, author of the monumental Romance of the Three Kingdoms.

J. H. Jackson came to China as a Presbyterian missionary. His version of The Water Margin is the first complete translation to follow the text of the Chinese original closely.

Edwin Lowe is a publisher and educator with over 20 years of experience in the field of Asian Studies. He has taught at Macquarie University, the Australian National University and the University of New South Wales in Australia.

Etsu Inagaki Sugimoto

Janice P. Nimura

A Daughter of the Samurai

Memoir of a Remarkable Asian-American Woman

By Etsu Inagaki Sugimoto

Foreword by Janice P. Nimura

Introduction by Christopher Morley

This is the remarkable story of one woman's journey successfully navigating two very different cultures—the first memoir ever written by an Asian-American woman.

Beautifully told, it is the story of a headstrong and empowered woman—an obedient wife, widowed mother and bilingual breadwinner—finding her way and finding her voice in a strange new land. Follow in her footsteps and trace the remarkable trajectory of her life as she:

- Witnesses her father's ritual seppuku and her mother burn down the family home
- Bids an emotional farewell to her homeland and sails across the ocean to marry a wealthy merchant whom she has never met
- Returns to Japan with her two daughters and mother-in-law after the death of her husband only to find Japan, the country of her birth, just as alien to her as America
- Returns to America after the death of her mother-in-law and reinvents herself again

An international bestseller when it was first published a century ago, A Daughter of the Samurai emerges as a rare testament to a singular woman's resolve, strength and perseverance.

Etsu Inagaki Sugimoto (1874-1950) was a Japanese-American writer and educator. She began writing essays about Japan for local newspapers to practice her English, then for the magazine Asia—which were later published in book form as A Daughter of the Samurai. Sugimoto went on to publish several novels and moved to New York City, where she taught Japanese language and history at Columbia University.

Janice P. Nimura is the author of Daughters of the Samurai: A Journey from East to West and Back, a New York Times Notable book of 2015. More recently, she received a Public Scholar Award from the National Endowment for the Humanities in support of her work on The Doctors Blackwell, a finalist for the 2022 Pulitzer Prize in biography.

The Outsider: The Life and Work of Lafcadio Hearn

The Man Who Introduced Voodoo, Creole Cooking and Japanese Ghosts to the World

By Steve Kemme

Foreword by Bon Koizumi

Born in Greece and abandoned as a child, Lafcadio Hearn lived the life of an exile. He traveled the world and became a famous writer but always felt like an outsider—in Dublin, London, Cincinnati, New Orleans and French-speaking Martinique. To him, none of these places felt like home.

Hearn’s life in America was punctuated by a string of successes and failures. In Cincinnati he became the city’s best-known crime reporter but was fired after marrying a black woman. Devastated, he moved to New Orleans where he championed French Creole and Caribbean culture in pieces for Harper’s and Scribners—and created a new image for the city as a place of voodoo and debauchery (the image of New Orleans which many Americans still hold today!).

Hearn arrived in Japan at a time of historic change. Sent there as a correspondent for Harper’s, his commission was soon terminated over a dispute. Alone and jobless, he settled in the remote town of Matsue, firmly believing that Japan would provide him with an endless supply of rich writing material—perhaps enough to last a lifetime. And he was right.

Over the next dozen years, Hearn published fifteen books which were lauded by the likes of Mark Twain, William Butler Yeats, Albert Einstein and Charlie Chaplin. Hearn’s books on Japan established his reputation as the leading Western writer on that country—a position he still occupies today.

- This book recounts the many colorful episodes in Hearn’s life including:
- His troubled childhood in Ireland and emigration to America with no job or money
- His career as a popular newspaper writer and essayist in Cincinnati and New Orleans, where he found great success but was never fully accepted
- His journey to Japan where he became a Buddhist, married the daughter of a Samurai, took a Japanese name and is now considered one of Japan’s leading writers
- Hearn’s growing fame as a writer, especially for his essays and books on ghosts, demons, monsters and the supernatural realm of Japanese folklore

The Girl from Wudang

A Novel

By PJ Caldas

When she's in the cage—fighting, that is—she's called Tigress. But on other days, she is Claudia—for clouds, so soft and elusive that not even the mountains can stop them. In China, for the same reason, she was known as Yinyin.

But in reality, Claudia was born without much Yin—the soft energy of the universe—and too much Yang, the hardest force. Which makes her a beast. Hence the nickname, Tigress, that she brought with her to America just before her Shifu passed. He told her that her imbalance would one day kill her. But of course she never listened.

Whenever Tigress has the chance, she will jump into the cage again and fight. Usually the big men have no idea what is coming at them. Until it is too late!

When Claudia is invited to a high tech lab full of the nerdy Ivy League types she despises, they ask her to let them experiment on her by installing weird little robots inside her head, so her mind can be linked to an AI super brain. If the connection is good, she will become the smartest fighter who ever lived. And Claudia thinks, why not? Especially since they promise that the experiment will also help her condition—"Suicidal Headaches," as she calls them—incurable, until that day.

Then, robots in and... headaches gone! What nobody expects though is that these connections, this AI super brain, will allow Claudia to uncover an old family skill. One hidden in what she always thought was a silly fable about a tigress, a beehive and a monkey. In China, they refer to it as The Shadow Leap. In the West, there is another name for it...Teleportation!

PJ Caldas (a.k.a. PJ Pereira) is the creative force and co-founder of Pereira O'Dell, a full-service advertising agency with offices in New York and San Francisco. He is an Emmy winner, a multiple Cannes Grand Prix winner and a multiple black belt holder in various martial arts disciplines. He has published four novels in his native Brazil, where his Deuses de Dois Mundos trilogy reached bestseller status. Always questing, he presents his first English-language novel as part of a deeper exploration into the power of artificial intelligence and robotics.

Queen of the Universe

A Novel

By Pia Wurtzbach

Cleo is an aspiring model and actress who makes her way up from doing commercials and TV appearances to a role in an indie film. Her father, a prominent director, is someone she barely knows. And Cleo longs for that connection. Keeping her family happy and bringing her dad into her life are Cleo's twin goals in life. But to achieve them, she needs to climb the ladder of success. And she is determined to do that—quickly!

Winning a local beauty pageant title is the first step, even though it drives a wedge between Cleo and her longtime love.

As she ascends further—into the big leagues of international pageants—Cleo discovers how ugly the reality is and jeopardizes an even more important relationship—the one she has with herself. In the end, she must ask herself if it is all worth it, and make the most difficult decision of all...

Set against the rich backdrop of modern Manila, a city buzzing with lite and glamor, Queen of the Universe is about remembering who you are in a dizzying world of fame and celebrity, told by an international beauty pageant insider.

Pia Wurtzbach, Miss Universe 2015, is a well-known actress and model in the Philippines. She has appeared in many films and TV series including My Perfect You, All About Love and My Papa Pi. Golden Lotus

A Saga of Ambition, Murder and Lust in Medieval China

By Lanling Xiaoxiao Sheng

Translated by Clement Egerton and Shu Qingchun

Introduction by Robert Hegel

Golden Lotus tells the story of Ximen Qing, a wealthy, unscrupulous merchant who takes the beautiful and ambitious widow Pan Jinlian as his fifth wife. Jinlian is not content to accept her position, however, and schemes to dominate her husband and improve her standing in society by using sex as her weapon.

As the story unfolds, Ximen Qing embarks on a series of sexual conquests and Pan Jinlian exploits her husband's lust, ultimately causing the downfall of the entire family. The story's dramatic climax vividly portrays the lengths to which ambitious people will go to gain influence. It also lays bare the rivalries within wealthy Chinese families of privilege while chronicling their rise and fall.

Iconic in China, Golden Lotus has been alternately banned and lauded for centuries, all the while being avidly read as a popular page-turner. This new Tuttle edition, now available in a single unabridged volume, has a superb introduction by Robert Hegel.

Clement Egerton was at various times a senior officer in the British army, an Anglican bishop, and a writer, editor and photographer. He is best known for his enduring translation of Golden Lotus.

Shu Qingchun became famous as the Beijing novelist and dramatist Lao She whose best-known work is Rickshaw Boy. He was killed, or committed suicide, during the Cultural Revolution.

Robert Hegel is a specialist in Chinese literature and the former Liselotte Dieckmann Professor of Comparative Literature and professor of Chinese Washington at University in St. Louis, Missouri.

Dream of the Red Chamber

An Epic Story of Women's Lives in Imperial China

By Cao Xueqin

Translated by H. Bencraft Joly

Foreword by John Minford

Introduction by Edwin Lowe

Dream of the Red Chamber is renowned for its epic scope, rich psychological characterizations and telling observations on family life and the role of women in Chinese society. It is widely regarded as the greatest Chinese classical novel and one of the greatest works of world literature ever written.

The “Red Chamber” refers to a sheltered area in wealthy households where daughters were confined until married—a veritable prison where dreams of true love wither. This sweeping tale tells of two star-crossed lovers from rival branches of the wealthy Jia family, who live in lavish adjacent compounds surrounded by a private garden. The fates of the lovers and their families slowly unravel as this tragic tale unfolds.

Although written by a man, Dream of the Red Chamber is said to be one of the first great works of women's literature. The author, Cao Xueqin, is thought to have written the novel as a memorial to the inspiring women he knew in his youth, and the book is filled with strong female characters who struggle against the restrictions of a blatantly misogynistic society.

Cao Xueqin was born into a wealthy family whose status diminished and whose fortune was confiscated when he was still a child; spending the remainder of his life in poverty. He wrote Dream of the Red Chamber over a period of twenty years.

H. Bencraft Joly was Vice-Consulate of Macao at the time he translated Dream of the Red Chamber in an effort to advance an appreciation of Chinese literature among Westerners.

John Minford has published widely on Chinese literature and translated numerous works including Strange Tales from a Chinese Studio and the Art of War.

Edwin Lowe is an independent publisher of books on the humanities who has over twenty years of experience as an educator in Asian studies. He has taught at Macquarie University, the Australian National University and the University of New South Wales in Australia.

The Indonesian Art of Herbal Healing

The Science and Lore of Jamu Herbal Preparations and Treatments

By Susan-Jane Beers

Jamu herbal preparations and treatments are part of an integrated system of inner and outer health and beauty that has been practiced and honed for centuries by Indonesians. This book is the result of ten years of research and over 100 interviews with jamu practitioners and producers—from housewives and home apothecaries to the CEOs of multinational corporations who produce jamu products for export. It is designed for anyone who is interested in traditional herbal medicine, health and beauty.

Jamu treatments have been used in Indonesia since at least the 16th century but until recently were unknown in the west. How, when and where were these treatments developed and used? What is so special about them and why are they now becoming popular in spas and health retreats worldwide? In the pages of this book, you'll learn about:

- The secret world of ancient Javanese palaces where Indonesian jamu was perfected
- Healers and jamu makers whose skills have been passed down for generations
- Dozens of age-old remedies, recipes and treatments that can be used safely at home
- Detailed information about the natural herbs and ingredients found in jamu preparations
- How jamu is sold traditionally, and the female pioneers of the modern jamu industry
- And many other fascinating topics!

The Indonesian Art of Herbal Healing is lavishly illustrated with over 100 photographs and is the first definitive reference in English on this exotic and practical healthcare system.

Susan-Jane Beers is an Irish-born writer with a background in public relations and journalism. Educated in England, she worked in London before moving to Asia in 1987. While living in Indonesia in the 1990s, she became interested in Indonesian traditional medicine when it solved a chronic ailment she had within days. This led her to embark on many years of in-depth research into the archipelago's traditional health and beauty treatments; the result is this book. Beers also writes for regional magazines including Attention, The Peak and B International in Hong Kong and Expat magazine in Singapore.

CHAPTER 1 Indonesian Healing Through the Ages

THE USE OF HERBS IN A CURATIVE OR HEALTH-GIVING CAPACITY IS AS OLD AS JAVANESE CIVILIZATION ITSELF

Tracking down the origins of jamu is no easy task. The use of herbs in a curative or health-giving capacity is as old as Javanese civilization itself. Indonesians believe herbal medicine originated in the ancient palaces of Surakarta (Solo) and Yogyakarta in Central Java. The culture of the courts also developed as a result of various exotic influences—Chinese, Indian and Arab—and these influences are reflected in their herbal medicine. But as with many things Indonesian, solid evidence is hard to find.

Early Evidence

Experts agree the use of plants for medicinal purposes in Indonesia dates from prehistoric times. The theory is substantiated by the impressive collection of Neolithic stone implements in Jakarta's National Museum that were almost certainly used for daily health-care. Tools such as mortars or rubbing stones were used to grind plants and obtain powders and plant extracts.

Further proof can be found in stone reliefs depicting the human life cycle at the famous Borobudur temple dating from c. AD 800–900. In these carvings the kalpataṛa leaf (from the 'mythological tree that never dies') and other ingredients are being pounded to make mixtures for women's health and beauty care. These reliefs also depict people giving body massage, a healing process recorded in many parts of the world, particularly in China, Japan and India. With the establishment of early trade routes between Asia and Asia Minor, healing techniques would have quite easily passed from East to West, and vice versa.

Raw materials about to go under the grinder, or grinding stone for the first crushing.

CHAPTER 3

The Raw Ingredients of Jamu

DESPITE THE LARGE NUMBER OF PLANTS AVAILABLE, ONLY A HANDFUL OF SPECIES ARE THE UNDISPUTED SUPERSTARS OF JAMU—THEY ALL BELONG TO THE GINGER OR ZINGEBERACEAE FAMILY.

Of the 40,000 species of tropical plants in the world, an estimated 30,000 grow in Indonesia. The archipelago is one of the most biodiverse regions in the world. To date, some 7,000 cultivated species have been identified. Close to 1,000 of these are commonly used in the preparation of Indonesia's traditional medicine, although only 286 plants have been registered in the Materia Medika Indonesia at the Department of Health.

This list figure reflects those species used by the major jamu producers, who struggle to keep 200 essential ingredients in stock at any one time. Jamu sellers working from home use up to 100 plants on an ad hoc basis, but focus on only 10 or 12 when preparing their daily stocks. The balance of 700 to 800 plants is used by villagers for a vast range of formulae that never appear in official records. By contrast, the Ministry of Agriculture maintains that the industry needs no more than 20 medicinal plants.

Over the centuries, Indonesians have experimented with their botanical heritage in numerous ways. There is no doubt that huge number of medicinal plants were selected for their effective healing powers; others may have been used because of similarities between the characteristics of the plant and the ailment, as dictated by the popular doctrine of signatures or similarities. This suggests that the shape, colour or texture of each plant is a sign virtually telling us what ailments it can cure. Thus, hair-like plants are supposed to make hair grow, flowers with eyes give sharper vision, heart-shaped leaves cure heart disease, red blossoms are effective against bleeding, while orchids are excellent aphrodisiacs.

Zen and the Beat Way

By Alan Watts

When Jack Kerouac wrote his novel Dharma Bums, his views on Zen Buddhism echoed the sentiments of the Beat Generation, who found in Zen a way of life unencumbered by the limitations of "square" society. And it was the philosopher Alan Watts who first spoke about Zen in terms that were accessible to mainstream Western audiences. Watts was an engaging speaker and an icon of America's Counterculture movement who named among his friends Aldous Huxley, Lawrence Ferlinghetti, John Cage and Joseph Campbell.

Through his popular series of radio talks Way Beyond the West, Alan Watts presented the practical side of Zen, which he described as "a cure for education and culture." By the early sixties, his radio programs were renowned for their synthesis of Eastern wisdom and everyday life. This book is an engaging introduction to Watts' enduring teachings. The fascinating essays in this collection include:

- The Beat Way of Life—How the Beats lived an uncomplicated Zen life and despite being denigrated as worthless slackers, like Eastern thinkers they actively pursued "an arduous course of spiritual and psychological discipline"
- Return to the Forest—How the popular works of the writer Joseph Campbell influenced the earliest Beat traditions by advocating an internal search for individual truth over learned schools of thought
- The Democratization of Buddhism—How Buddhism is actually a "religion of no-religion" that conveys the spiritual through the everyday and the ordinary, and recognizes no division between the two

Watts' teachings—delivered during an era of turmoil and political strife—are as timely today as they were half a century ago.

Alan Watts was a former Episcopal priest, born in London in 1915. He came to the U.S. in the 1930s, where he became a scholar of Eastern religions. He moved to San Francisco in 1951 where he began teaching Buddhist studies and in 1956 began his popular radio show, Way Beyond the West. By the early 1960s, his radio talks aired nationally and the Counterculture movement adopted him as it's spiritual spokesman. He went on to write more than twenty books. He died in 1973.

Buddhism

The Religion of No-Religion

Alan Watts

Buddhism: The Religion of No-Religion presents six powerful essays by Alan Watts, the guru for an entire generation of 20th century thinkers, writers and poets. Watts was an engaging speaker and an icon of America’s Beat and Counterculture movements. His friends included Aldous Huxley, Lawrence Ferlinghetti, John Cage, Joseph Campbell and Gary Snyder.

In this book, Watts explores all aspects of Buddhism—from its roots in ancient India to the explosion of interest in Zen and

Tibetan Buddhist thought in the West. The fascinating topics covered in this book include:

- Finding a Middle Way—How a spiritual path to awakening is formed not just by avoiding extreme indulgence but extreme denial as well
- The Religion of No-Religion—How Buddhism eschews any particular dogma and instead acts as a guide to understanding oneself
- Buddhism as Dialogue—How Zen teaches us that we are one with the world and so as we learn to navigate the world, we must also learn about ourselves

Watts traces the early beginnings of Buddhism, outlines the differences between Buddhism and other religions, and reviews the Four Noble Truths and The Eightfold Path. Buddhism: The Religion of No-Religion is a valuable reminder of the peace to be found by looking inward.

Alan Watts was a former Episcopal priest, born in London in 1915. He came to the U.S. in the 1930s, where he would become a scholar of Eastern religions. Shinto

The Kami Spirit World of Japan

By Sokyō Ono and William Woodard

Foreword by Héctor García

Shinto: The Kami Spirit World of Japan is a concise guide to the fundamental elements of the Shinto religion—its rich mythology and symbols, intricate rituals, festivals, ancestral spirits, awe-inspiring architecture and a profound belief in the divine presence in the natural world around us.

Readers will discover here the pervasive influence of Shinto on all aspects of contemporary Japanese life and culture. From the hallowed shrines nestled in wooded landscapes to the vibrant tapestry of contemporary Japanese manga, films and video games featuring Kami spirits and characters—Shinto is ever-present. The chapters include:

- The Kami Way
- Shrines
- Worship and Festivals
- Political and Social Characteristics
- Some Spiritual Characteristics

Shinto wedding ceremony

This modernized classic, with new color and b&w images and a new foreword by bestselling author Héctor García, reminds us of the intrinsic connection between humanity and nature. Shinto's reverence for the divine in all aspects of nature can inspire and guide us to achieve a more harmonious and sustainable future.

Dr. Sokyō Ono was a professor at Kokugakuin Daigaku, a Shinto university in Tokyo, and lectured for the National Association of Shinto shrines. He also served as Executive Director of the International Institute for the Study of Religions and the Japan Religious Co-operative Council.

William Woodard directed the research unit of the Religious and Cultural Resources Division, Civil Information & Education Section, SCAP from 1946 to 1952.

Héctor García was born in Spain and worked in Switzerland before making his home in Japan over 15 years ago. His popular blog kirainet.com led to his internationally successful book A Geek In Japan. Along with Francesc Miralles, he is the co-author of the international bestseller, Ikigai: The Japanese Secret to a Long and Happy Life.

The Ultimate Guide to Japanese Yokai

Ghosts, Demons, Monsters and Other Mythical Creatures from Japan

By Zack Davisson

Mysterious demons, ghosts and monsters have haunted Japan for centuries! The Ultimate Guide to Japanese Yokai presents 100 of the strangest creatures you have ever seen—from evil demons and terrifying monsters to mythical ghosts and enchanted beasts.

In this book, Yokai expert Zack Davisson explains how Yokai are highly elusive, and yet until you understand them you will never truly know Japan. The Yokai profiled in this book include:

- Amabie—A mysterious half fish, half bird creature able to heal any affliction with its image.
- Tofu Kozo—A harmless Yokai that appears like a young child dressed in a fancy kimono with a straw hat carrying a plate of wobbly tofu
- Kyokotsu—The pitiful spirit of a person who was thrown down a well and died—with pale skin and a shock of white hair growing from a bleached-white skull
- Akaname—A disgusting Yokai who skitters about licking the scum from filthy bathtubs
- Kanibozu—Massive crabs who shapeshift into human form, disguising themselves as monks and asking riddles, but killing anyone who fails to answer them correctly!
- And many more!

Packed with interesting facts and entertaining stories, this book is richly illustrated with over 250 woodblock prints and paintings that reveal the fascinating world of the Yokai in glorious detail.

Zack Davisson is an award-winning writer and the author of many bestselling books including Yurei: The Japanese Ghost, Yokai Stories and Kaibyo: The Supernatural Cats of Japan. He has translated Japanese bestsellers including Leiji Matsumoto’s Space Battleship Yamato, Go Nagai’s Devilman, and Shigeru Mizuki’s Kitaro. He lectures on translation, manga and folklore at Duke, UCLA and the University of Washington, as well as contributing to major international exhibitions.

Janus Silang and the Creature of Tábon

Volume One in the Janus Silang Saga

By Edgar Calabia Samar and Carljoe Javier

Illustrated by Natasha Ringor & Mervin Malonzo

When dreams and the waking world collide, how do we know what is real? Janus Silang and the Creature of Tábon tells the chilling tale of one boy's courageous actions in a world of shadows and terror—and his struggle to overcome a growing evil.

Janus is like most teenage boys—arguing with his parents, wishing he had a girlfriend, and playing video games constantly. Especially one where the players battle monsters from Philippine folklore. It's all very ordinary—until one day, everything falls apart.

During an online tournament at a local internet café, all the players fall dead except for Janus. The horror deepens as deaths multiply across the country. Janus is contacted by a stranger, a survivor of the tournament like himself, who asks for his help to solve the mystery. Along the way, he discovers a hidden truth about the game he has been playing and its connection with a nightmarish creature from the ancient caves at Tábon that threatens to destroy everything he holds dear.

Adapted from the Philippine National Book Award-winning novel, Janus Silang and the Creature of Tábon takes the reader on a journey of discovery as Janus learns the truth about the realm of mythical creatures which surrounds us, and how he and his family are connected to a magical past.

Edgar Calabia Samar is a poet and novelist whose books have received numerous literary awards including the Philippine National Book Award, the Man Asian Literary Prize, the NCCA Writer's Prize and many others. He has published eight novels and four poetry collections.

Carljoe Javier is a writer who explores the psyche of the Philippine diaspora in his writing. He is an avid fan of video games, sci-fi, comic books and everything geeky. Currently he teaches creative writing at the Fine Arts Department of Ateneo de Manila University.

Natasha Ringor is an illustrator based in the Philippines. Her illustrations have appeared in numerous children's books, comic books and video games. She is an art director for McCann Worldgroup, an international marketing and advertising agency.

Janus Silang and the Struggle for Kalibutan

Volume Two in the Janus Silang Saga

By Edgar Calabia Samar

Illustrated by Mervin Malonzo

Following a grisly encounter with the Tiyanak, an evil creature from Philippine folklore, Janus Silang realizes that nothing in his life will ever be the same again. He and his family are now the targets of a powerful force that must be destroyed.

Janus and his friends escape to Kalibutan, where the Tiyanak cannot follow. There, he searches for Tala, the Tiyanak's goddess twin and the only being with the power to defeat it. This quest leads him again to the world of online gaming, where to his great dismay he discovers that he is not the only one looking for Tala!

Janus Silang and the Struggle for Kalibutan is adapted from the award-winning novel by Edgar Calabia Samar, one of Asia's best-known writers and a multiple winner of the Philippine National Book Award.

Edgar Calabia Samar is an award-winning poet and novelist whose books have won Asia's most prestigious literary prizes including the Philippine National Book Award (three times) as well as the Man Asian Literary Prize, the NCCA Writer's Prize and many others.

Mervin Malonzo is one of the best-known illustrators and graphic novel authors in the Philippines. His comic Tabi Po won the Philippine National Book Award and was adapted into a live action TV series by Signal TV. With his wife Prin and a few friends he runs an independent publishing house, Haliya Publishing, dedicated to producing high level graphic fiction.

The Mythology Class

Where Philippine Legends Become Reality

Arnold Arre

This Philippine National Book Award winner fuses traditional myth and magic with contemporary action. Borrowing elements from The Lord of the Rings and The Phantom Tollbooth, author and creator Arnold Arre reinvents age-old Filipino fables, constructing a rich world of fantasy and adventure for a new generation.

The Mythology Class follows Nicole Lacson, an anthropology student at the University of the Philippines. When she is summoned to a secret meeting by the mysterious Madame Enkanta, Nicole finds herself face-to-face with living creatures from mythology and folklore that she never imagined existed in real life! Tikblangs, kapres and a range ofengkantos—fantasy figures from her grandfather's bedtime stories—challenge her previously-held notions of reality.

Nicole embarks on a quest through the streets of metropolitan Manila with a ragtag crew of college students. With guest appearances from legendary Filipino heroes like Sulayman, Kubin and Lam-ang, Nicole's class must face down and repel an ancient evil.

The Mythology Class features world-building of the highest order, balancing the scope and magnitude of an adventure epic with the humor, warmth and insight of a classic coming-of-age tale.

Arnold Arre won the inaugural graphic novel Philippine National Book Award in 2000 for The Mythology Class. He is the author and illustrator of many other popular works, including Halina Filipina, Martial Law Babies, After Eden, The World of Andong Agimat and Trip to Tagaytay.

The Children of Bathala

A Mythology Class Reunion

By Arnold Arre

It's been two decades since the former classmates first met, and the ensuing years have brought their share of changes. Lane has lost her telepathic powers. Kubin is weakening, while Rey and Misha have mysteriously disappeared. To add to the problems, doubts about Madame Enkanta's true purpose are mounting.

Nicole, once the heart of the group, now senses a dark spell settling over them, her young daughter included. What the former classmates don't realize is that a new band of visitors is about to arrive from a magical realm. Will these visitors provide a portal to an enchanting world or usher in a new age of evil? And will the former classmates still be up to the challenge?

The Journey to Lupan-On

The Mythology Class—On the Run Again!

By Arnold Arre

Idra's plan to hide Nicole and her friends from the Dark Forces of Anitos has failed. Now the evil Budniaan has arrived in this world with his army of zombie warriors and demented Engkanto demons—on a mission to eliminate the former Mythology Class members.

With Rey and Misha on the other side of the globe and the group at odds over what to do, the one course they all can agree on is the inevitable one—reunite and combine forces to thwart Budniaan's threat. Revisiting a scene of their past triumphs, the group uncovers an ancient artifact. Will it lead them to the safety of the Skyworld, spirit realm? And will the group of intrepid adventurers be able to summon the spirit of resistance that once defined them? As the most powerful force they've ever faced reaches their borders, they're not really given any choice!

The Journey to Lupan-On is the latest chapter in The Mythology Class saga. This pulse-pounding epic plays out of the porous border between two worlds. The book stands on its own even though it is part of an ongoing series and a intersection recap at the onset helps to refresh the memories of readers. It also provides the background to this adventure for those who are new to the series.

Yokai Attack!

The Japanese Monster Survival Guide

By Hiroko Yoda and Matt Alt

illustrated By Tatsuya Morino

Yokai Attack! is a nightmare-inducing one-stop guide to Japan's traditional monsters and creepy-crawlies.

Yokai are ethereal sorts of beings, like ghosts, nearly always encountered at night; everyone has their own take on how they might look in real life and what sorts of specific characteristics and abilities they might have. This book is the result of long hours spent poring over data and descriptions from a variety of sources, including microfilms of eighteenth-century illustrations from the National Diet Library in Tokyo, in order to bring you detailed information on almost 50 of these amazing creatures for the first time in English.

Tatsuya Morino Illustrations detail the potential appearance of each yokai. Alongside each illustration is a series of “data points,” with each yokai’s significant features at a glance.

Yurei Attack!

The Japanese Ghost Survival Guide

By Hiroko Yoda and Matt Alt

Illustrated by Shinkichi

Yurei Attack! is a nightmare-inducing one-stop guide to Japan's traditional ghosts and spirits. Surviving encounters with angry ghosts and sexy specters. Haunted places. Dangerous games and how to play them. And more importantly, a guided tour of what awaits in the world of the dead.

Yurei is the Japanese word for “ghost.” It’s as simple as that. They are the souls of dead people, unable—or unwilling—to shuffle off this mortal coil. Yurei are many things, but “friendly” isn’t the first word that comes to mind. Not every yurei is dangerous, but they are all driven by emotions so uncontrollably powerful that they have taken on a life of their own: rage, sadness, devotion, a desire for revenge, or even the firm belief that they are still alive.

Karate's Universal Codeword

The Mysterious Origins, Meaning and Usage of the Word “Oss” in the Martial Arts

By Toshinori Ohmori

Translated by Alexander Bennett

No matter where in the world you are, enter any karate dojo and the term most frequently heard is “Oss!” Karate's Universal Codeword is the first thorough examination of the origins and use of this word in the martial arts, and the fascinating story behind its spread to other martial arts disciplines.

The word Oss is used as a basic salutation, but has many other meanings and functions as well. It is also a response—when your name is called, when saying goodbye or goodnight, and before and after meals. Essentially, Oss has been adopted globally as a universal sign of respect reflecting the fundamental spirit of the martial arts. Use of the word has exploded far beyond karate into other martial arts like judo, aikido, Brazilian jiu-jitsu, kickboxing and mixed martial arts—making it arguably the most frequently uttered Japanese word in the world.

Yet ironically, few martial artists (even in Japan) know the true origins and the deeper meaning behind the term. Although it is universally used, it remains a total mystery to everyone. This book promises to finally reveal the secrets behind the word Oss and its fascinating origins!

Toshinori Ohmori is a graduate of Nihon University and a former professional kickboxer. His 8-second knockout in the first round of his debut fight stands as the shortest knockout in the history of Japan's pro kickboxing league. In addition to running Japan's first martial arts café, Ohmori serves as a K-1 certified referee and judge. He currently manages Nice Middle, a kickboxing event for middle-aged and older athletes, and is a director of Athlete Foods.

Alexander Bennett is a professor of Japanese history, martial arts and Budo theory at Kansai University. He co-founded and publishes Kendo World, the first English-language journal dedicated to Kendo. He holds black belts in several martial arts disciplines—Kendo Kyoshi 7-dan, laido 5-dan and Naginata 5-dan. His published works include The Complete Musashi: The Book of Five Rings and Other Works and The Insider's Guide to The Japanese Martial Arts.

Secret Tactics

Lessons from the Great Japanese of Martial Arts Masters

By Kazumi Tabata

In the tradition of Musashi, one of America's most experienced teachers of karate distills invaluable lessons drawn from the most influential martial arts texts in Japanese history. This book includes fascinating essays on leadership, correct behavior, character, values and strategic thinking.

■ "The Hereditary Manual of Fighting Techniques" by Yagyu Tajimanokami Munenori explores the relationship between Zen philosophy and warfare and the mental preparation needed for winning.

■ "The Ultimate Sword" by Takuan Soho describes the unremitting effort needed to become a true master of martial strategy. The same author uses key aspects of sword-fighting tactics to shed light on the path to self-realization in "The Miracle of Immovable Wisdom."

■ "The Technical Study of Kenpo" by Kotoda Yahei Toshisada emphasizes the importance of training and learning practical techniques over theory.

■ "The School of Two Heavens" by Musashi Miyamoto applies the principles of sword fighting to military arts and politics.

■ "Jyoseihi Kendan" by Mastuura Saizan focuses on strengthening the weak points of the human mind and exploiting the natural movements of the human body.

■ "Tengu's Dialogue on the Martial Arts" by Issai Chosanshi is a manual for students of the martial arts, presented in the form of a dialogue with a master.

Containing these and a dozen more essays on combat tactics, psychology, leadership, good character and the exercise of power, Secret Tactics is an indispensable resource for students of Asian culture, martial artists and corporate executives.

Kazumi Tabata was a Grandmaster (8th degree black belt) in the Shotokan style of Japanese karate. He established and was the Chief Instructor of the North American Karate-do Federation and the New England Collegiate Karate Conference. He lived in Massachusetts until his death in 2020.

Dr. Andreas Marks

Hiroshige's One Hundred Famous Views of Edo

The Definitive Collector's Edition

By Andreas Marks

Utagawa Hiroshige's unique landscape series One Hundred Famous Views of Edo (modern-day Tokyo), first published in the 1850s, is among the best-known collections of Japanese prints and was revolutionary in its day. Individual prints from this collection are regarded as among the finest works in all of Japanese art.

In this series, Hiroshige captures 118 locations in and around Edo, today's Tokyo, during all four seasons and often from hitherto unknown and unique perspectives. These views were first printed in exquisite luxury versions, incorporating innovative printing techniques like color gradation. No complete set of the early versions exists today and this is the first book to present a complete set of the deluxe early printings, sourced from 32 different museums and private collections.

Author Andreas Marks consulted 4,700 prints in compiling this volume in order to provide a definitive guide to the various printed versions along with reference images showing how and where Hiroshige sourced his ideas for each view—from previous books and illustrations.

Marks' introduction discusses the genesis of the series in the context of Japanese landscape art as well as Hiroshige's personal biography. The book then presents all 118 prints together with their source materials and a map showing the locations of each view, followed by a detailed appendix discussing the great color variations found in subsequent printings of the series.

Dr. Andreas Marks is the Mary Griggs Burke Curator of Japanese and Korean Art and Director of the Clark Center for Japanese Art at the Minneapolis Institute of Art. From 2008 to 2013 he was the Director and Chief Curator of the Clark Center for Japanese Art and Culture in California. He has a Ph.D. from Leiden University and a master's degree in East Asian Art History from the University of Bonn. A specialist of Japanese woodblock prints, he is the author of over 16 books. He has received awards from the International Ukiyo-e Society and the International Fine Print Dealers Association.

Divine Felines

The Cat in Japanese Art

By Rhiannon Paget

Whether lurking in corners or taking center stage, cats are a ubiquitous presence in Japanese art. Depending on the situation, they may invite good fortune, prompt the viewer to meditate on a tale or provide evidence of an unseen world of supernatural happenings.

In 200 charming woodblock prints, paintings, screens and figurines spanning three centuries, Japanese art expert Rhiannon Paget celebrates the rich symbolism and surprising stories surrounding the feline image in Japan. Her book contains illustrated essays on the following fascinating topics:

- Domestic Companion or Household God? Japanese artists represent the great affection and sense of pride which cat owners feel for their pets
- The Feline Muse: Cats as ideal subjects for artists to explore, their glossy fur and markings lending themselves to a lively interplay of textures and materials
- Lucky Cats: Auspicious creatures symbolizing health, longevity and prosperity
- Mischief and Mayhem: Japan's rich visual record of cats as witches and monsters
- Philosophers' Cats, Teachers' Pets and Moggies with Messages: Felines employed to illustrate philosophical and religious ideas, and as conveyors of folk wisdom
- Plus much more!

This delightful book will appeal to anyone with an interest in Japanese art and culture and is a must have for all cat lovers!

Rhiannon Paget is the curator of Asian Art at the John and Mable Ringling Museum of Art in Sarasota, Florida. She received her doctorate from the University of Sydney and has published widely on Japanese prints, paintings, textiles and popular visual culture as well as curating numerous exhibitions, including Saito Kiyoshi: Graphic Awakening in 2021.

Japanese Mingei Folk Crafts

An Illustrated Guide to the Folk Arts and Artisans of Japan

By Manami Okazaki

The Mingei Folk Crafts movement founded by philosopher and art historian Soetsu Yanagi and potters Hamada Shoji and Kawai Kanjiro and the early 20th century celebrates the utilitarian designs and functional objects hand-crafted by village artisans throughout Japan. This book offers an illustrated guide to Japan's rich folk craft traditions and shows why the Mingei philosophy is even more relevant today than when the movement began a century ago.

Folk crafts have become associated with the Slow Life movement and the Wabi Sabi philosophy which values simple and imperfect items above the bright and shiny mass-produced objects of our modern disposable culture. This book introduces dozens of fascinating Japanese folk craft traditions—ranging from popular, widely-known ones to many lesser-known crafts that are equally exquisite but rarely seen. The crafts covered here include:

- Aizome Hand-dyed Indigo Textiles which use the leaves of the indigo plant to produce a rich, deep-blue color
- Edo Furin Wind Chimes made of delicate hand-blown glass, one of the iconic symbols—and sounds—of the hot and humid Japanese summer
- Maneki Neko Beckoning Cats, one of the most popular folk crafts in Japan, with their right paw raised to bring in money and good luck
- And 31 other fascinating craft traditions!

Author Manami Okazaki describes each craft in loving detail and interviews nine talented folk artists. The book features 400 color photographs and a guide to buying folk crafts both in Japan and abroad.

Manami Okazaki has published over a dozen books on Japanese art and culture, including Japanese Kokeshi Dolls (Tuttle Publishing). Her articles have been featured in The Wall Street Journal, The South China Morning Post, The Japan Times, Transit and other international publications. She has written extensively on the Tohoku region of northern Japan and curated Kokeshi Japanese doll exhibits in London, Paris, Rome and Los Angeles.

Chinese Furniture

A Guide to Collecting Antiques

By Karen Mazurkewich

Photography by A. Chester Ong

The international market for antique Chinese furniture is booming, and masterpieces from the Ming and Qing dynasties are now selling for hundreds of thousands of dollars. Chinese Furniture is a survey of these collectibles—from the very best museum-quality hardwood pieces to standard softwood specimens still available at reasonable prices on the international market.

Carpenters from this era were artisans. They elevated furniture from the functional to the realm of the philosophical. By artfully aligning wood grain patterns, experimenting with spatial dimensions, and innovating new forms of joinery, simple tables and chairs came to represent something higher—the harmony and union of man and nature.

Lavishly illustrated with over 300 color photographs, historical prints and detailed drawings, this book presents an overview of:

- Carving Styles
- Wood Types
- Regional Variations
- Class Distinctions
- Restoration Techniques
- And much more!

With its detailed historical overview and regional coverage, this book highlights the great diversity of antique Chinese furniture and serves as an indispensable guide to collectors, new and old.

Karen Mazurkewich is an Asian Wall Street Journal reporter who has covered Asian culture and the retail scene from her base in Hong Kong. Mazurkewich has investigated art forgery, interviewed countless collectors, grilled innovative businessmen, and queried carpenters—all in a quest to better understand the business and culture of fine furniture collecting in Asia.

A. Chester Ong, born in the Philippines and currently based in Hong Kong, has photographed widely throughout Asia. His photography appears in major magazines, exhibitions and books.

Super Potato Design

The Complete Works of Takashi Sugimoto, Japan's Leading Interior Designer

By Mira Locher and Takashi Sugimoto

Foreword by Tadao Ando

Photography by Yoshio Shiratori

Super Potato Design presents the work of internationally-renowned Japanese designer Takashi Sugimoto. After studying metal sculpture at Tokyo University of Fine Arts, Sugimoto began his career designing a series of bars and restaurants including the iconic Radio Bar in Tokyo that became a favorite hangout for designers like Issey Miyake, Yohji Yamamoto and Tadao Ando. He was soon recruited to design retail spaces including the original Muji “no-brand” shops along with tea ceremony spaces and wedding chapels.

Super Potato's striking interiors have revolutionized Japanese design through the use of exposed concrete surfaces, rough-hewn timber and unevenly cut stone juxtaposed with salvaged and repurposed objects to create a sense of power and timelessness. The design vocabulary created by Sugimoto is universally imitated today (in Japan and throughout the world). It is what we now think of as “modern Japanese design”—although Sugimoto's own work has never been surpassed.

Super Potato Design presents forty of Sugimoto's most important projects in 320 full-color photographs by Yoshio Shiratori, who worked with the designer since the beginning. Author and architect Mira Locher introduces Sugimoto's work and provides a description for each project. A foreword by Tadao Ando and discussions with architect Kiyoshi Sey Takeyama and graphic designer Kenya Hara explore the direction of Japanese design today. A list of Super Potato's complete works rounds off this fascinating book.

Takashi Sugimoto (1945–2018), born in Tokyo, studied metal sculpture and graduated from the Tokyo University of Fine Arts and Music in 1968. He founded Super Potato in 1973 and became a professor at Musashino University of Fine Arts in 1992. He received the Mainichi Design Award in 1985 and 1986, as well as the Interior Design Association Award in 1992, where he became a Hall of Fame inductee in 2008.

Mira Locher is an architect and educator who works in the US, Canada and Japan. She studied at Smith College before receiving her Master of Architecture degree from the University of Pennsylvania. After working for Team Zoo Atelier Mobile in Japan, she set up an architectural practice in the US with Takayuki Murakami. Locher is now dean of the Faculty of Architecture at the University of Manitoba and the author of many books including Japanese Architecture, Zen Gardens and Zen Garden Design.

Tadao Ando is one of the world's leading architects and winner of the 1995 Pritzker Prize. As a young man, Ando worked as a boxer then decided to become an architect after being inspired by the work of Frank Lloyd Wright, Le Corbusier and Louis Kahn. Entirely self-taught, he established Tadao Ando Architects & Associates in 1968.

Yoshio Shiratori was born in Tokyo in 1938 and graduated from the Photography Department of the School of Fine Arts of Nihon University in 1960. He founded his own photo production company, ZOOM!, in 1973. In 1988, he received the 1987 Japan Interior Designers' Association Award.

Inside The Korean House

Architecture and Design in the Contemporary Hanok

By Nani Park and Robert J. Fouser

Photography by Jongkeun Lee

Amidst the glass-and-steel skyscrapers and luxury apartments of modern-day Seoul, traditional Korean houses known as hanok survive and play a surprisingly important role. Inside the Korean House showcases 12 very special hanok that have been selected to reflect the style-conscious Korea of today, a country where traditional values are still highly respected.

While the exteriors of these homes are indistinguishable from traditional hanok of the past, the interiors have been adapted to keep up with the times. Traditional stone, wood and clay are still the basic materials used, and the houses make full use of natural elements such as wind and sunlight based on the principles of baesanimsu—which position the hanok in harmony with the forces of nature and the geography of their sites.

The hanok in this book all have unique stories that are told from the point of view of their owners, many of whom are well-known architects, designers and business leaders. The book provides an unparalleled look at the lifestyles of contemporary Koreans who are leading the world now in terms of design, fashion and innovation.

Nani Park was born in Korea but grew up in Hawaii, which gives her a special perspective as both an insider and outsider in Korea. An award-winning illustrator and art educator, she has worked in the art industry for over two decades.

Robert J. Fouser renovated his own hanok in 2012 and has been active in hanok preservation.

Jongkeun Lee is one of Korea's leading design and food photographers. He established his own studio, Apo Associates (www.apo.co.kr), in 1995 and contributes regularly to lifestyle magazines. His photographs are featured in Korea Style, also published by Tuttle Publishing.

The Amazing Beasts of Philippine Mythology

When You Have to Say: "Excuse Me, Mister Monster Sir!"

By The Ang Ink Artists Collective

This delightful compendium of mythical creatures (and where to find them) takes a tongue-in-cheek look at the ghoulish and gory things that go bump in the night—blood-sucking trolls, shape-shifting goblins and terrifying vampires who defend their turf with glee as they unleash chaos upon the world.

Monsters and magical creatures spring vividly to life on every page of this book thanks to the exceptional artistic talents of some of Asia's leading children's book illustrators. Brief bilingual descriptions and dazzling illustrations introduce 56 fun, freaky and fearsome creatures, including:

- Mandurugos—Whose long tongue slithers down through cracks in the ceiling to suck out the souls of unsuspecting sleepers at night
- Busos—Who noisily gather in cemeteries to dig up and consume freshly-buried corpses
- Tiktiks—Who swoop, hop and crawl as they prey on babies, the elderly and pregnant women
- Batibats—Who drop from the house beams and suffocate sleepers with their huge bodies

And yes, they live among us—in secret burrows, hollow trees, underwater caverns—and especially in our homes. "Tabi-tabi po" is the phrase to be invoked in their presence, meaning, "Kindly step aside, Sir, and allow me to pass." These words are respectfully addressed to the unseen creatures who don't take kindly to trespassers, intentional or otherwise.

So be forewarned as you venture into this supernatural realm. Get acquainted with these amazing beasts and remember to say, "Tabi-tabi po!" when you meet them!

The Ang Ink Artists Collective is the Philippines' first and only organization of artists dedicated to children's book illustration. Asia's leading children's book illustrator collective, established in 1991, it consists of the best visual artists working in the country today, many of whom have won local and international awards and recognition for their work.

Vietnamese Folktales for Children

Stories of Adventure and Wonder in Vietnamese and English

By Tran Thi Minh Phuoc

Illustrated by Nguyen Thi Hop & Nguyen Dong

These ten delightful stories bring Vietnam's rich culture and traditions to life. This volume is perfect for story time and read-alouds, and for anyone who loves the imaginative leaps and moral lessons in traditional myths and legends. This essential anthology includes:

- Thạch Sùng and the Cracked Earthen Pot—A greedy man learns that it's better to be satisfied with what you have than to yearn for the unattainable
- The Carp and the Dragon's Gate—A fish turns into a dragon, showing that with hard work and perseverance seemingly impossible goals can be achieved
- The Toad Is Sir Sky's Uncle—A brave toad saves the world from drought, showing that we should never judge someone by their looks
- And seven more fascinating tales!

Sure to delight readers of all ages, Vietnamese Folktales for Children is perfect for parents who want their children to absorb the wisdom of Vietnamese folk stories while becoming familiar with the language along the way.

Tran Thi Minh Phuoc is the first Vietnamese-American librarian in Minnesota. A respected storyteller and award-winning author, her first book Vietnamese Children's Favorite Stories won the Anne Izard Storytellers' Choice Award, the Creative Child Magazine Book of the Year Award, and the Moonbeam Children's Book Gold Medal Award. Thần Trà, Uất Lũy và Cây Đào Khổng Lồ

Peach blossoms are a favorite during the Tết holiday in northern Vietnam as symbols of peace, happiness and prosperity. They are often displayed in houses or planted in front yards to keep demons away, especially during the New Year when the gods go back to meet with the Jade Emperor.

Thần Trà and Uất Lũy were gods who lived in a giant peach tree near Soc Son Mountain. They protected the local people from demons. Villagers felt safe having them nearby.

The giant peach tree kept growing and growing. It blocked the hot sun and strong winds with its long, leafy branches. The farmers rested in its shade. Magically, their weariness and hunger would disappear. Birds sang sweetly on the branches while children played below. The great tree scared the demons away. They were afraid of the powerful gods and their amazing tree.

Thần Trà, Uất Lũy và Cây Đào Khổng Lồ

Hoa đào là loại hoa được yêu thích trong ngày Tết ở miền Bắc Việt Nam được coi như biểu tượng của hòa bình, hạnh phúc và thịnh vượng. Những hoa đào nở rộ thường được trưng bày trong nhà hoặc được trồng ở sân trước để xua đuổi ma quỷ, đặc biệt nhất là trong năm mới khi các vị thần phải trở về thiên đình để trình báo Ngọc Hoàng.

Thần Trà và Uất Lũy là các vị thần trú ngụ trên cây đào khổng lồ gần núi Sóc Sơn. Các vị thần bảo vệ người dân địa phương để ma quỷ không quấy phá. Dân làng cảm thấy an tâm khi có các vị thần ở gần bên mình. Cây đào khổng lồ che lợp kín đất, ngăn cản những cơn gió nóng và gió lạnh. Những người nông dân nghỉ ngơi dưới bóng cây. Kỳ diệu thay, họ cảm thấy sự mệt mỏi và cơn đói biến mất. Những con chim hót trên cành cây trong khi trẻ em chơi đùa dưới bóng cây. Cây đào thu hút tất cả mọi người và chúng sợ hãi trước các vị thần và cây đào tuyệt vời của họ.

The Magic Raven and the Three-Hands-Sized Pouch

Once there was a mean and greedy couple who mistreated the husband's younger brother and his wife. When the brother's father died, the older couple took most of the inheritance, leaving the young couple only a small plot of land with a single starfruit tree.

"As the eldest son, I have more responsibilities. I should inherit everything," the older brother said. "But I want you and your wife to stay on our family land. Our parents loved these delicious starfruits. Care for the tree in memory of our loving parents."

The young couple were happy to stay on their family land. Each day, they took care of the starfruit tree. They raised farm animals and grew rambutans, mangosteens and mangoes in their small garden full of sweet-smelling flowers.

Con Quạ Thần và Chiếc Túi Ba Gang

Ngày xưa có hai vợ chồng xấu tính và tham lam đã ngược đãi em trai của chồng và vợ của anh ta. Sau khi cha mất, vợ chồng người anh lấy hết phần lớn tài sản thừa kế và chỉ để lại cho vợ chồng người em vốn vốn một mảnh đất nhỏ với duy nhất một cây khế.

"Vì là con trai trưởng, anh có nhiều trách nhiệm hơn. Anh được thừa kế tất cả mọi thứ," người anh nói. "Nhưng anh muốn gia đình chú ở lại trên mảnh đất của gia đình mình. Cha mẹ chúng ta rất thích những quả khế ngon này. Hãy chăm sóc cây khế để tưởng nhớ đến cha mẹ yêu quý của chúng ta."

Đôi vợ chồng trẻ rất vui mừng khi được ở lại trên đất của gia đình. Mỗi ngày, họ chăm bón cây khế. Họ chăn nuôi gia súc và trồng chôm chôm, măng cụt và xoài trong khu vườn nhỏ đầy hoa thơm ngát.

On the tenth day, a humble yellow carp appeared. With years of practice jumping, the strong fish swam upstream against the strong winds and current. He leaped over Dragon's Gate and turned into a mighty dragon. He would now serve the Jade Emperor and make rain on earth.

In many houses and restaurants, a painting of a carp leaping over Dragon's Gate reminds people of the power of bravery, endurance and hard work.

Vào ngày thứ mười, một chú cá chép vàng khiêm tốn xuất hiện. Với nhiều năm tập nhảy, cá chép mạnh mẽ bơi ngược dòng chống lại những cơn gió mạnh và dòng nước chảy xiết. Cá chép vượt qua Long Môn và hóa thành một con rồng dũng mãnh. Giờ đây, rồng sẽ phục vụ cho Ngọc Hoàng và hô mưa gọi gió trên trái đất. Trong nhiều ngôi nhà và nhà hàng, bức tranh cá chép vượt Long Môn nhắc nhở mọi người về sức mạnh của lòng dũng cảm, sức chịu đựng và sự chăm chỉ.

Musah: With patience, perseverance, and hard work, you can achieve your dreams. Bức tranh Cá Chép Vượt Long Môn nhắc nhở mọi người về sức mạnh của lòng dũng cảm, sức chịu đựng và sự chăm chỉ, bạn có thể đạt được ước mơ của mình.

A girl with grit, determination, passion and a paintbrush—can achieve amazing things!

Hokusai's Daughter

A Young Artist in Old Japan

By Sunny Seki

Whether working in his studio or out in the field, Japanese artist Hokusai had a constant companion—his youngest daughter, Eijo. Wherever they went, Eijo brought along her own bag of brushes and the same artistic brilliance and passion as her dad. Hokusai's Daughter tells the story of a clever girl who refuses to believe that only men can create great works of art.

Told that she cannot become an artist because she's a girl, Eijo sets out to prove everyone wrong. She's determined to become the proverbial koi that swims up the waterfall and becomes a mighty dragon—fighting against the current to become the person she is meant to be. Her creativity and spunk surprise everyone, including her father. In the end she saves the day—and her dad's honor—proving that she's not just a good artist, but a great one!

Katsushika Oi, called Eijo, created many remarkable works and had a hand in her illustrious father's later work. This beautifully illustrated bilingual story celebrates the power of grit and artistic expression as it introduces young readers to a trailblazing figure who, like her famous father, left a lasting impression in the world of art. Hokusai's Daughter is a timeless tale that teaches kids to believe in themselves and follow their passion.

Sunny Seki is the author-illustrator of bilingual books on Japanese culture for children which highlight the values of courage, selflessness, loyalty and determination as well as the value of art. Specializing in traditional tales, he creates puppet performances, teaches Japanese poetry, and is a photographer as well as a writer and an illustrator. He lives with his wife Judy and their children in the Los Angeles area. He has authored several children's books including the award-winning Yuko-Chan and the Daruma Doll and The Last Kappa from Old Japan.

The Monkey King

A Classic Chinese Tale for Children

By David Seow

Illustrations by Lak-Khee Tay-Audouard

The Monkey King retells the story of the Buddhist monk Tripitaka who is dispatched by the Jade Emperor of Heaven on a magical quest to bring the Sacred Scriptures of the Buddha to China in order to save the nation from chaos. It describes in turn how the monk meets three brave traveling companions—Monkey, Pigsy and Sandy—each of whom has a very odd appearance but special powers and a strong personality. Along the way they face many enemies and often quarrel amongst themselves like children. But in the end, their loyalty to each other and dedication to their common goal ultimately win the day.

The most beloved character in this story is of course the hilarious Monkey—mischievous and full of energy, constantly on the move and constantly creating problems for the others. But Monkey has amazing magical powers that enable him to transform himself into other living beings and to summon an army of monkeys to his side at a moment's notice. Much to the consternation of his comrades, however, he is always boasting about his abilities. But in the end he is the one who saves them.

David Seow was born and raised in Singapore. He studied at Anglo-Chinese School, Oregon Episcopal School, and subsequently the University of Portland. After a stint as a sitcom writer with an award-winning television series, he embarked on a career in children's literature. David is the author of twenty-three well-received children's books, including The Littlest Emperor.

Lak-Khee Tay-Audouard is an award-winning artist who has illustrated several children's books including Singapore Children's Favorite Stories and Adventures of the Treasure Fleet. She is based in Singapore where she teaches at the International French School. Inspired by Tang figurines, the illustrations in this book capture the innocence and simplicity of Chinese folk art. Her original colored pencil and wash illustrations were done on bamboo rag paper. Organic materials like earth, charcoal, tea and sackcloth have been added to enhance their rustic feel.

The Twelve Animals of the Chinese Zodiac

*Traditional Fables in Chinese and English
—A Bilingual Storybook for Kids*

By Vivian Ling and Wang Peng

Illustrated by Yang Xi

This bilingual children's book presents a charming collection of folktales and fables on the timeless theme of the twelve animals of the Chinese zodiac. All of these stories are very popular in China, retold and adapted here to appeal to young readers and children all around the world.

Each story explores a moral dilemma that young readers can easily understand, and provides a gentle lesson that they will discover for themselves. The twelve stories in this book include:

- How a Monkey Is Doomed by His Own Pride—A monkey is rescued by a dolphin after a shipwreck but is dumped back into the sea when his pretense of being rich is discovered.
- What Kind of Music Do Cows Appreciate?—A master musician does not blame the cows when they don't like his music, but learns to create music that they will appreciate.
- How Do You Make Dragons Come to Life?—An artist obeys the emperor's command to add eyes to his painted dragons, but when they fly away, it turns out this is not what the emperor wanted after all.

Vivian Ling has enjoyed a long career in Chinese language and literature, teaching at Oberlin College and Indiana University, and directing Chinese language programs abroad. She is the author of many books including The Field of Chinese Language Education in the U.S.: A Retrospective of the 20th Century. With Peng Wang she has co-authored Essential Mandarin Chinese Grammar, Chinese Stories for Language Learners and A Bilingual Treasury of Chinese Folktales, all published by Tuttle.

Wang Peng has been on the faculty at Georgetown University since 2002, teaching various Chinese language courses including Business Chinese and Chinese for Heritage Learners. Formerly, she was Chief Instructor at the Inter-University Program for Chinese Language Studies at Tsinghua University, as well as a visiting faculty at Oberlin College and Brown University.

Yang Xi is an artist and illustrator who combines classical and contemporary styles. She holds an MA from the College of Fine Arts at Nanjing Art Institute and illustrated A Bilingual Treasury of Chinese Folktales and Chinese Stories for Language Learners.

Mind-Blowing Kusudama Origami

The Art of Modular Paper Folding

By Byriah Loper

Kusudama are elaborate geodesic spheres assembled from many small folded paper modules. They were originally developed to hold incense in Japanese Buddhist temples. Modern kusudama consist of dozens of colorful papers folded and fitted together to form ornate spherical sculptures.

In this exciting new book, master paper folder Byriah Loper presents 30 of his original Kusudama models, including:

- Capstone—A spiky sphere resembling a sea urchin
- Ortygia—An unusual cube-shaped kusudama
- Shakespeare—An elaborate model resembling a ball of flowers
- Trallia—A ball with petal-like projections that looks like a large chrysanthemum

Assembling kusudama is an exciting challenge, however Loper's clear diagrams and clear instructions make them accessible to anyone—even if you have no prior origami paper folding experience.

Byriah Loper is an origami artist best known for his elaborate modular works and pleated tessellations. His interest in origami began in his childhood and Loper soon discovered modular origami. He has since designed and folded more than 1,000 original works. His models have been featured in major exhibitions and he is a frequent guest instructor at the annual OrigamiUSA and the Origami Tsunami conventions. Byriah lives in Wilmore, Kentucky.

At the Controls

Without some way to steer an airplane in flight, it would be practically useless. Once off the ground, there's nothing to push against but air. But that's quite enough! Here's how real planes do it.

Voyager

Paper is easy to fold. It holds creases fairly well, but after a while it starts to relax and unfold again. Paper airplanes fly fine when they are fresh and crisp, but as the paper begins to relax, they become puffy and loose. One way to stop this is to use a lock on the nose to hold everything together. For this plane, I have borrowed a record holder Takuo Toda's excellent nose mechanism. It might seem tricky to fold at first, but it soon becomes easy to do, and the difference in performance is worth it!

1 Start with the paper face down. Fold up on line 1. The diagram shows how to find where to fold.

2 Fold the corners on the 2 lines to the point shown.

3 Fold the new corners to the center on the 3 lines.

4 Mountain fold the plane in half.

5 Fold and unfold the nose on lines 4 and 5. Fold 4 starts where the thickness of the paper changes.

6 Spread the nose on the creases, squash it flat, fold the loose tip down on line 6, and push the bottom half around to the back.

7 Fold the wings on the 7 lines. The edge of the wing should touch the top of the centerline.

8 Open out the wings, and you're done!

Star Fleet Paper Airplanes for Kids

Paper Spaceplanes That Really Fly!

By Andrew Dewar

Paper airplane designer Andrew Dewar has done it again! In his new book, he presents an amazing collection of high-performance space planes for kids who are fascinated by space travel. Step-by-step instructions show you how to fold each of the sci-fi-themed planes, which are designed to fly beautifully with every launch!

The book opens with a primer on the principles of flight so kids learn about the forces that enable airplanes to fly and how to coax the best performance from their paper models. They'll have fun practicing with these futuristic paper spaceplanes—doing loops, barrel rolls, glides and dives!

The 12 planes in this book include the following easy-to-fold models:

- The single-winged Helix—Designed to ferry crew members to space and back
- The Stargo freighter—A spacious craft with great performance due to its forward canards
- The Shard—The command flagship and pride of the Star Fleet
- And many more!

The book comes complete with 32 tear-out perforated sheets that have folding lines printed on them for quick and foolproof folding. It also has a pull-out moonbase poster which kids can spread on the floor and use to park their space planes and practice precision landing maneuvers.

Andrew Dewar was born in Toronto, Canada, and received a degree in Journalism and Library Science before moving to Japan in 1988. There he rediscovered his childhood love of designing and flying paper airplanes and has now published over 40 paper crafting books and kits. He teaches paper airplane workshops and gives seminars at schools, libraries, community centers and museums.

Paul B. Kennedy

Vietnamese Food and Food Culture

An Extraordinary Journey Through the Street Foods, Regional Cooking Style and Local Ingredients of Vietnam

By Paul B. Kennedy

In 2018, veteran restaurateur, author, foodie and all-around travel junkie Paul Kennedy embarked on a life-changing journey to Vietnam. His main goal was to explore the nation's rich cuisine and food culture, which had always fascinated him from afar, but which he could never quite fully understand.

This book is the result of five years spent traveling the length and breadth of the country, experiencing Vietnamese food up-close as no other food writer has before. In 24 essays, 60 recipes and 100 photographs, Kennedy shares his experiences through:

- Engaging stories about tantalizing local foods and drinks—such as the unparalleled Nam Định bahn mi and fresh bia hơi beer—and palate-challenging delicacies like bitter melon and the foul-smelling but divine durian
- Intriguing myths, rituals and beliefs—such as the legendary sword-snatching golden turtle of Hoan Kiem Lake and the outlawed “Coconut Religion”
- Information on Vietnamese herbs, condiments and ingredients—from fish sauce to rice paper wrappers to basil, green onions and sawtooth coriander
- Recipes for classic street food dishes like Rice Paper Pizza, Bánh Mi Sandwiches and Steamed Coconut Rice Cakes with Toasted Shrimp Flakes
- Iconic restaurant and homestyle dishes like Spicy Lemongrass Chicken, Crispy Pan-Fried Trout and Baby Basket Clam Rice
- Unusual drinks and desserts like Egg Coffee, Mango Margaritas, Coconut Cream Martinis, Tofu Pudding and Vietnamese Layer Cake
- Plus many other unique flavors, dishes and food discoveries as well as dozens of insightful cultural observations from the author's time living in Vietnam

Paul B. Kennedy has worked in the restaurant industry for 30 years—bringing delicious meals and welcoming environments together to create fond memories. Paul studied hotel management and received a degree in culinary arts from Johnson & Wales University. He then moved to New York where he established himself in the restaurant world while honing a passion for writing and photography. In 2018, with only a backpack and a sense of adventure, Paul headed off to Vietnam. He has traveled extensively around the country ever since, documenting Vietnamese food culture and capturing its flavors. In addition to writing, cooking and traveling, Paul is passionate about teaching and volunteers his time to help others learn and grow. This is his first cookbook.

Yields 6-8 Spring Rolls Prep time: TK Cook time: TK

Spring Rolls Nem Cuốn

For the peanut sauce:

- 1 cup (135 g) creamy peanut butter
- 2 teaspoons honey
- 2 teaspoons low sodium soy sauce
- 2 teaspoons rice wine vinegar
- 2 garlic cloves, minced
- 1-inch piece ginger root, grated
- 1 teaspoon toasted sesame oil
- 1 teaspoon freshly squeezed lime juice
- Water, as needed

For the spring rolls:

- 2 ounces (57 g) dried rice noodles (vermicelli)
- 1 cup (24 g) thinly sliced scallions
- 1 cup (17 g) coarsely chopped cilantro
- 1 cup (17 g) coarsely chopped mint
- 1 medium carrot, julienned
- 2 medium cucumbers, julienned
- 12-16 rice paper wrappers
- 2 cups (40 g) mixed greens
- 2 cups (200 g) bean sprouts
- 8 ounces (226 g) shrimp (24-26 count, peeled, and deveined)

I've made these spring rolls often during my time in Hanoi—always in the company of a wonderful group of local friends. Connecting with others and exchanging stories about yourself over food are among my favorite things to do, and spring rolls are the perfect dish to share around a table.

1. For the peanut sauce: In a medium mixing bowl, whisk together the peanut butter, honey, soy sauce, rice vinegar, garlic, ginger, sesame oil, and lime juice until mixed thoroughly. Add water, if needed, to achieve the desired consistency: smooth, creamy, and free of lumps. Transfer the sauce to a serving bowl and garnish with julienned carrot, if desired.

2. For the spring rolls: Prepare the rice noodles according to the package instructions, rinse with cold water, and set aside. In a small bowl, combine the scallions, cilantro, and mint. In a separate bowl, combine the julienned carrot and cucumber.

3. Fill a shallow bowl with warm water. Stack two rice paper sheets and submerge them in the water for a few seconds until pliable. Carefully lay them onto a flat surface. Evenly distributing the remaining ingredients, top the herbs along the bottom edge of the rice paper, leaving about 1 inch of rice paper on either side of the filling. Top the herbs with the noodles, mixed greens, sprouts, carrots and cucumbers, and whole shrimp. Roll the sheet away from you halfway, holding the ingredients carefully inside the wrappers. Fold the 2-inch sides toward over the filling and continue rolling until the spring roll is wrapped firmly. Repeat with the remaining wrappers and ingredients. Serve the spring rolls with peanut sauce on the side for dipping.

Yields 6 Pancakes Prep time: TK Cook time: TK

Vietnamese Pancakes Bánh Xèo

The word xèo in this recipe's title is a nod to the sizzling sound the batter makes as it hits the hot pan. You'll find these crispy Vietnamese crêpes all over Vietnam. It's a quintessential street-food dish that's flavorful and fun to eat. There are good and bad dishes at restaurants everywhere in the world, if the first time you have this dish you don't enjoy it, keep trying it at other places until you find someone who does it well as you are sure to enjoy it!

For the pancake batter:

- 1 cup (140 g) rice flour
- 1 cup (84 g) all-purpose flour
- 2½ teaspoons turmeric
- 1½ teaspoons salt
- 3½ cups (840 mL) water
- 1 cup (230 mL) full-fat coconut milk
- 3 scallions, thinly sliced

To complete:

- Anatto oil, as needed
- 1 medium yellow onion, thinly sliced
- 12 pound (240 g) pork belly, sliced
- 10 pound (227 g) shrimp (24-26), peeled
- 6 scallions, sliced
- 1 cup (240 g) dried night-raw-beans (soaked overnight)
- 2 cups (200 g) fresh bean sprouts
- 1 cup (120 g) mixed greens
- 1 bunch perilla leaves
- 1 bunch mint, stems removed
- 1 bunch cilantro, stems removed
- Dipping Sauce (recipe on page 137)

1. For the pancake batter: Sift the rice flour, bean, turmeric, and salt together into a large mixing bowl. Add the water and coconut milk and whisk until no lumps remain. Stir in the scallions and set aside for 1 hour.

2. To complete: Heat 2 tablespoons of anatto oil in a large skillet over medium-high heat until shimmering. Add the onion, pork, and shrimp and cook for 2-3 minutes, stirring occasionally, until almost cooked through. Add the scallions and cook for another 1-2 minutes. Remove from pan and set aside.

3. Pour about 1½ cups of batter into the pan, tilting the pan quickly to create an even layer. Add more batter if there isn't enough to coat the pan. Add mixed beans and sprouts. Continue by adding ½ of the pork and shrimp mixture. Lower the heat to medium. Cover the skillet and cook until the batter has cooked slightly, and the edges have become translucent, 2-3 minutes. Remove the lid, lower the heat to medium-low, and continue cooking until the pancake becomes crispy, 5-7 minutes. Fold the pancake in half and transfer to a plate. Repeat with the remaining batter. Serve warm with mixed greens, herbs, and dipping sauce on the side.

Japanese Cooking for Kids

50 Kid-Tested Recipes to Make Together!

By Debra Samuels and Mayumi Uejima-Carr

Photography by Yumi Komatsudaira

Japanese Cooking for Kids is the perfect way for you and your kids to learn about Japanese cooking while having fun in the kitchen. It will also teach them how to eat more healthy meals, and many of these dishes may even become their new favorites!

These 50 kid-tested recipes for ages 8 to 14 get “two thumbs up” and empty plates every time:

- Onigiri Rice Balls, Sushi Rice in Tofu Pockets and Chicken and Egg Rice Bowls
- Japanese Seaweed Sprinkles on Popcorn and Tuna Salad Sushi Rolls
- Classic Japanese Favorites like steamed Gyoza Potstickers and Miso Ramen Noodles
- Drinks & Desserts like Strawberry Soy Milk, Glazed Mochi Balls & Green Tea Matcha Cakes

Each chapter in this book contains a fun, hands-on activity like counting to 10 in Japanese while washing your hands, growing your own green onions or making your own chopstick rests! In addition to preparing delicious Japanese recipes, kids will learn the basic principles of Japanese cuisine—eating foods that are in season, and only eating until you feel 80% full—to help you live a longer and healthier life.

Japanese Cooking for Kids will give you and your family a whole new perspective on food and eating—the Japanese way!

Debra Samuels has written about food for over three decades and developed the popular “Kids Are Cooking” series on food, culture and nutrition for Boston’s Children’s Museum. Samuels worked for many years as a food writer and food stylist for The Boston Globe. She currently leads the program content and curriculum development for TABLE FOR TWO USA, traveling around the country teaching workshops on bento, the Japanese lunchbox.

Mayumi Uejima-Carr became the president of TABLE FOR TWO USA following work with Accenture and Eli Lilly and after earning an MBA. With TABLE FOR TWO USA, she has developed a program to provide healthier school meals for children across the U.S.

Yumi Komatsudaira is a recipe developer, food stylist, culinary instructor and President of K-Seaweed—a leading ocean greens provider. She is the author of Japanese Superfoods.

Asian Vegetables

A Cook's Bible

By Wendy Hutton

Here at last is a book by a leading food expert presenting everything you need to know about the rapidly-expanding list of Asian vegetables found in supermarkets, farmers' markets, Asian grocers and specialty gourmet stores. With attractive watercolor illustrations and photos, Asian Vegetables: A Cook's Bible helps you to identify 150 different Asian vegetables and plant products and presents 145 authentic recipes that you can prepare at home using these delicious ingredients, including:

- Indian Chickpeas in Spicy Tomato Sauce
- Malaysian-style Cabbage Stewed in Coconut Milk
- Sri Lankan Breadfruit Curry
- Stir-fried Loofah with Oyster Sauce
- Thai Wild Pepper Leaf Parcels
- Chinese Garlic Chive Pancakes
- Fresh Tuna Baked in Konbu Seaweed
- Spiced Indian Cauliflower
- And many more!

From sugar peas and azuki beans to fern tips, hijiki seaweed, jackfruit and mustard cabbage—this book offers insightful background stories about the ways Asians have traditionally prepared these vegetables as well as descriptions of their appearance, nutritional content and flavor—plus tips on how to buy and store them and interesting information about their health benefits according to traditional Asian folk beliefs. Fresh, dried, fermented, pickled and preserved vegetables, tubers, herbs, mushrooms and sprouts are all described in detail as well.

Asian Vegetables: A Cook's Bible is a much-needed reference that home cooks and professional chefs alike will want to have on their shelves!

We Cook Filipino

Heart-Healthy Recipes and Inspiring Stories from 36 Filipino Food Personalities and Award-Winning Chefs

By Jacqueline Chio-Lauri

Kumain ka na? (“Have you eaten yet?”) is the greeting used by all Filipinos when they meet. This book presents the extraordinary food culture of the Philippines in stories and recipes from 36 culinary trailblazers—award-winning chefs, food writers and social media stars from around the globe. They share with us not just their favorite recipes for classic Philippine dishes like Adobo, Tokneneng, Sinangang and Ginataan, but also their personal family stories about what Filipino cuisine and food culture mean to them. Here are just a few of the fascinating stories and recipes found in this book:

- Award-winning writer, blogger and podcaster Liren Baker explains how family recipes were passed down to her by her Tita Leah and presents her favorite recipe for “Pancit Bihon Guisado” (Vegetarian Fried Rice Noodles)
- James Beard finalist Carlo Lamagna, chef-owner of Magna Kusina in Portland, tells us how culture shock turns into culinary adventure whenever he visits the Philippines and shares his take on “Tokeneng” (Orange-coated Egg)
- Amormia Orino moved to Atlanta in 2018 and began hosting Kamayan (communal feasts); she shares a heart-wrenching story about her aging mother and an unforgettable recipe for “Ginataang Alimasag” (Coconut-stewed Crabs)
- Grace Guinto, chief baking officer of Sweet Cora, a catering business, talks of the recipes her mother left her as “love notes from heaven” and gives us a summery recipe for her classic “Food for the Gods” (Date and Walnut Balls)
- Plus recipes and stories from dozens of other well-known Filipino food celebrities!

The 51 delicious recipes in this book are not just “from the heart”—they are also “good for the heart”—specifically included for their health benefits. The result is a cookbook presenting food as something central to Filipino culture and emotional well-being as well as being nutritious and amazingly tasty!

Jacqueline Chio-Lauri is the editor and lead author of this compilation. She is also the author of the highly acclaimed The New Filipino Kitchen. Keep an eye out for her upcoming picture books based on the lives of Filipino food icons Maria Orosa and Ma Mon Luk. She currently lives in the UK.

Kyoto Gardens

Masterworks of the Japanese Gardener's Art

By Judith Clancy
 Photography by Ben Simmons

By design, Kyoto's gardens possess a unique ability to provoke deep contemplation and joy in equal measure. This book is a labor of love from master photographer Ben Simmons and longtime Kyoto-based writer Judith Clancy. It contains lyrical images and poetic essays describing Kyoto's most famous gardens—most of them now UNESCO World Heritage Sites, including:

- Kyoto's Old Imperial Palace Garden—A massive walled complex filled with flowering plants, trees and buildings which served as the official residence of the Japanese emperor for over 500 years before 1868 and is now a public park.
- Heian Jingu Shrine Garden—Constructed on the site of the ancient capital and filled with lush greenery, ponds, rocks, bridges and pavilions which float above the water, providing a sense of tranquility and natural beauty.
- Ginkaku-ji Pure Land Garden—An earthly paradise featuring a massive truncated mound of packed sand that is resculpted by hand daily, this site was originally designed as private villa by one of Kyoto's rulers then turned into a Zen Buddhist temple upon his death.
- Kinkaku-ji Estate Garden—Perhaps Kyoto's most recognizable sight, a Golden Pavilion perched on the edge of a tranquil pond on whose smooth surface are reflected beautiful rocks and cypress trees placed all around it.
- Ryoan-ji Zen Rock Garden—The purest expression of a world in miniature, expressed as a sea of raked gravel with islands of natural stone and moss set in its midst, walled off from the outside world to provide a place for meditation and contemplation.
- Plus two dozen other masterful gardens!

Simmons' sensitive photos present a fresh, contemporary look at these timeless gardens while Clancy's graceful descriptions provides historic, aesthetic and cultural context. This new edition has been updated and revised, with many new photographs added.

Zen Gardens and Temples of Kyoto

A Guide to Kyoto's Most Important Sites

By John Dougill

Photography by John Einarsen

Preface by Takafumi Kawakami

Kyoto's Zen heritage represents one of mankind's greatest achievements—recognized by the large number of temples, shrines and gardens which have been declared UNESCO World Heritage Sites. Millions of visitors travel to Kyoto yearly in search of their secrets, and here for the first time is a comprehensive overview of each major site.

Over 50 temples and gardens—including all World Heritage Sites—are captured here in sensitive photos by acclaimed Kyoto-based photographer John Einarsen. A detailed introduction to each temple by local expert John Dougill includes information about special opportunities for visitors—such as early morning meditation sessions, temple food offerings and special green tea sets provided to enhance the contemplative experience—along with other “insider” information that no other guide provides.

A preface by Rev Takafumi Kawakami, the deputy head priest of the Shunkoin Temple in Kyoto, serves to place the book within the context of eastern and western Buddhist thought and practice.

John Dougill is a professor emeritus at Ryukoku, Kyoto's largest Buddhist university. He has written many books about Japan including In Search of Japan's Hidden Christians, Japan's World Heritage Sites and Kyoto: A Cultural History. In addition to running the Green Shinto blog, he is the associate editor of Japanese Religions and founder of the “Writers in Kyoto” group.

John Einarsen is a photographer, designer, curator and founding editor of Kyoto Journal, an international magazine on Japanese and Asian culture established in 1987. His photographs have been published in numerous books.

Rev. Takafumi Kawakami is deputy head priest of Shunkoin Temple in Kyoto where he teaches Zen meditation classes in English to thousands of foreign visitors. He has developed a mindfulness smart app called Myalo and supervises JINS MEME ZEN (a mindfulness program using a wearable device). His TED Talk on mindfulness has been viewed by over 100,000 people.

*Useful Phrases, Travel Tips,
Etiquette & Manga Dialogues*

By Scott Rutherford

Revised by William Matsuzaki

Packed with practical expressions and information for every travel situation, Japanese for Travelers helps you to get around and communicate effectively during your time in Japan. This book includes hundreds of tips and phrases for the following situations:

- Asking directions
- Shopping and asking about prices
- Ordering food and drinks
- Getting connected to the Internet
- Asking for help
- Daily conversations

Helpful illustrations demystify Japan's complicated rail and subway system and provide handy information on accommodations, dining options and ferry and air travel. Tips are included on everything from:

- Where to get a cheap and comfortable night's sleep
- Whom not to stand behind at immigration and customs counters
- How to always stay connected in Japan
- What to pack for your trip
- And hundreds of other helpful travel tips!

A handy Japanese-English and English-Japanese dictionary puts over 5,000 words at your fingertips!

Hidden Japan

An Astonishing World of Thatched Villages, Ancient Shrines and Primeval Forests

By Alex Kerr

Originally published in Japanese as a call to preserve disappearing facets of Japan’s rich and ancient culture, this book takes its inspiration from the 1960s classic, Hidden Hamlets by Shirasu Masako. Like Shirasu, Kerr travels to remote and lesser-known places around Japan where pockets of traditional culture can still be found. Some are faraway—like Aogashima Island, 200 miles south of Tokyo—while others are easy to reach, such as Mii-dera temple just east of Kyoto. The engaging essays in this book describe surprising remnants of

Japan’s fragile physical and cultural environment including:

- An austere but delicious kaiseki meal in Tottori composed of local herbs and meats
- Avant-garde Butoh dancers in the remote village of Tashiro in Akita Prefecture
- How shochu liquor is distilled from tropical ferns on the Pacific island of Aogashima

Kerr includes many anecdotes relating to his childhood growing up in Japan and his passion for restoring old houses, and discusses the damage caused by governmental infrastructure policies as well as tourism. His sharp eye for detail and exquisite descriptions of Japanese arts, architecture and foods will inspire readers who already appreciate his unique look at the “reality” of Japan beyond the romance.

Alex Kerr is a resident of Japan since 1977. He is an environmentalist, travel writer and restores old Japanese houses. He writes and speaks widely in Japanese as well as in English on rural revival and town planning, sustainable tourism, Japanese art and environmental issues. He has been appointed a “Visit Japan Ambassador” and received the “Agency for Cultural Affairs Commissioner’s Commendation.” He is the author of many books, including Lost Japan, Dogs and Demons, Living in Japan and many others. He has given several popular TED talks that are frequently viewed online.

Japan and the United States: The Journey of a Defeated Nation

A Diplomat's Memoir by Yukio Okamoto

By Yukio Okamoto

Forewords by Richard L. Armitage & Joseph S. Nye, Jr.

As one of the most distinguished and gifted Japanese diplomats of his generation, Yukio Okamoto navigated the corridors of power at the highest levels. In Japan and the United States: The Journey of a Defeated Nation, Okamoto recounts the compelling story of his diplomatic service and his role as a steadfast advocate for strong Japan-United States relations during an era of political crises, wars and fierce economic competition.

Okamoto was born in 1945 just two months after Japan surrendered to the Allies. During the war, his father served in the infamous Unit 731, a secret project that committed horrific war crimes. Okamoto was deeply affected by his country's devastation and his family's shame.

During a 20-year career in the Japanese Foreign Ministry and after he left government, Okamoto was an indispensable advisor to several Japanese prime ministers including Ryutaro Hashimoto, Junichiro Koizumi and Shinzo Abe. He worked tirelessly to strengthen relations with the United States even as other government officials advocated for the dismantling of the U.S.-Japan Security Alliance. The survival of this alliance is due in no small part to Okamoto's influence.

This book features contributions from former Deputy Secretary of State Richard L. Armitage and former Assistant Secretary of Defense Joseph S. Nye Jr., who both worked with Okamoto and share their thoughts on his life, career and legacy as an influential friend of the United States.

Yukio Okamoto was a career diplomat in Japan's Ministry of Foreign Affairs from 1968 to 1991 with postings in Paris (OECD), Cairo and Washington. Following his retirement, he became a political and economic consultant. He served as Special Advisor to Prime Ministers Ryutaro Hashimoto and Junichiro Koizumi, sat on the boards of several major Japanese multinationals and served as an advisor to several others. Okamoto joined the Center for International Studies at MIT in 2012 as a Robert E. Wilhelm fellow. He was a well-known commentator and author, publishing regular columns and contributing to major newspapers and magazines on Japanese diplomacy.

Richard L. Armitage is founding partner and President of Armitage International. He served as Deputy Secretary of the Department of State and as the Assistant Secretary for International Security Affairs at the Department of Defense. In addition, he has held a wide variety of high-ranking U.S. diplomatic positions.

Joseph S. Nye, Jr. is Professor Emeritus and former Dean of Harvard's Kennedy School of Government. He has served as Assistant Secretary of Defense for International Security Affairs, Chair of the National Intelligence Council, and Deputy Under Secretary of State. He is a fellow of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, the British Academy, and the American Academy of Diplomacy. In 2011, Foreign Policy named him one of the top 100 Global Thinkers. In 2014, Japan awarded him the Order of the Rising Sun, its highest civilian honor for a non-Japanese.
